PUBLIC SCHOOLS AND PENSIONS MUST BE WATCHED

These Are Items Where Reckless Appropriations Are Most Likely to Be Made, Says Governor.

SPECIAL STRESS LAID ON TAX EQUALIZATION

Wheatley Get-together Dinner Reveals Harmonious Effort to Work for State's Good.

That the appropriations for the public schools and for pensions were the two items which the legislature would have to watch most carefully, if it did not want to exceed the revenue of the state this year, was the declaration made by Governor Slaton at the banquet given last night to the members of the appropriations committee at the Capital City club by the chairman Crawford Wheatley, of Sumter.

The governor made it clear that it was not his intention to make any assault on these items, which he recognized as good and popular causes, but they were the two items on which the house was most liable to great reckless of expenditure, regardless of income and thereby make of no account small savings in other directions or appropriations asked for by the state institutions.

His position now was the same that it had been when he took the floor as president of the state senate to urge against service pensions, without an increase in the tax rate to meet the increased expenditure. It was not a question of sentiment, but one of plain business necessity. He insisted that for every increase in expenditure made by the legislature there should be an increase in revenue provided to meet it.

Deficit Exceeds $750,000.

The governor read from a report of the state treasurer made public Wednesday showing that the deficit for the year 1912 was $427,186.30, and the estimated deficit was $349,004.47, making an aggregate of appropriations over revenue made by the last general assembly amounting to $776,170.77.

These figures are $300,000 in excess of Comptroller General W. A. Wright's estimate of deficit for the same period.

In view of the fact that the general assembly would be called upon to refund a large part of the state debt, it became all important, the governor said, that this legislature should devise some means to get the state out of its financial difficulties. He called attention to several ways in which an increase of revenue might be obtained without adding perceptibly to the burdens of the people.

The additional occupational tax which he had recommended would hardly be felt by the corporations and yet it would add $60,000 to the state's revenue, a sum in excess of that paid for the maintenance of the state university proper.

Strong for Tax Equalization.

The governor was strong in his insistence on the importance of tax equalization. It did not rest with him, he said, if he paid taxes on 10 cents in the dollar, provided everybody else paid at the same rate, but it was not fair to him to pay on 10 cents in the dollar when somebody else was paying on 50 cents on the dollar.

The governor did not think that the creation of boards of equalization in each county would be necessary, but that the county commissioners could be made to act as boards of equalization and equally good results obtained therefrom. The system had been tried in Fulton county and it had proved successful.

The governor ended by calling attention to the tremendous responsibility resting upon this legislature.

"There is required of you more than ever before the courage to say 'no' when

Young Lady Playing Hide-and-Seek Falls Into Creek at Night

Detective Starnes Saves Miss Marguerite Dunn from Drowning, Losing Handcuffs and Pistol in Water.

While playing hide-and-seek with a number of friends returning from a birthday party at 11 o'clock last night, Miss Marguerite Dunn, a pretty young woman of 86 Park avenue, narrowly escaped drowning in a creek at Center Hill station on the river car line. Detective J. N. Starnes, of the local police department, played the hero, and saved her just in the nick of time.

Quite a crowd of young people had gone out beyond the end of the river car line to attend a birthday celebration given by O. H. Starnes, for his son, O. H. Starnes, Jr. Returning, their auto got out of order, and the crowd of young people started walking toward the car line.

"Let's play hide-and-seek," someone said. "There isn't any moon, and it'll be great fun."

And so, running along the road, the young people played the old, old game. When they came to a creek which was shadowed by overhanging trees Miss Dunn ran along a stone wall which was built over the creek. Suddenly she made a misstep, and fell splashing into about 15 feet of water.

Immediately she cried for help, and Detective Starnes, who was several hundred feet in the rear with some of the married folk, ran to her rescue. Pulling off his coat, he jumped into the water with his revolver, handcuffs and all, and reached her just in time.

Miss Dunn did not lose consciousness, but when brought to the bank was badly frightened. She was put on the river car line and brought to the city, more frightened than hurt.

Unless Mr. Starnes recovered them at a late hour last night, his revolver, pocketbook and handcuffs are in the bottom of the creek, where they fell from his pockets.

CARS CRASH HEAD ON; DRIVERS ARE NOT HURT

Miraculous Escape From Death Will Be Told in Court Today.

What is regarded as one of the most miraculous escapes in the knowledge of county police occurred last night when two automobiles crashed head on into each other at 9:45 o'clock last night on the Adamsville road and almost demolished the cars without injuring the drivers of either.

A. M. Moon, of Adamsville, who conducts a market on Decatur street, and O. H. Starnes, a Marietta street groceryman, whose home is in Center Hill, were the men in the two cars, and neither one was seriously enough injured to have to be sent to a hospital.

The crash of the cars was heard by a nearby resident who telephoned the county police headquarters and notified Desk Sergeant W. C. Chappelear. Cases charging "reckless speeding" were docketed against each one of the men, and they were allowed to go to their homes.

ELK MANAGER GUILTY OF SELLING WHISKY

C. R. Wright, of Macon, Convicted on Two Counts, Will Appeal the Case.

Macon, Ga., July 9.—(Special.)—C. R. Wright, manager of the Macon Elks' club, was convicted on two counts of violating the state prohibition law today, but sentence was deferred by Judge Mathews until in the morning. Notice of an appeal has been given. The verdict came as a surprise, especially to the members of the lodge.

There are cases pending against managers of other social clubs. Mr. Wright as manager of the Elks' club was indicted with a number of club managers, there being two counts in the indictment, having whisky in his possession and retailing whisky. When the case was called this morning D. J. Dasher, acting solicitor, was faced by a formidable array of counsel for the defense who had volunteered their services, the counsel being Attorneys Roland Ellis, Ellsworth Hall, C. A. Gibwson, Bruce Jones and W. B. Mathews.

Judge Mathews told members of the club who had been summoned as witnesses that they need not testify unless they desired to, for they had this right. The state introduced express company employees to show that whisky had been delivered to Mr. Wright at the club, but no witnesses were found who could identify the signature of Mr. Wright on the receipt given the express company.

The defense's chief argument was that Mr. Wright was simply the agent of the club, and as such was not personally guilty of any infraction of the prohibition laws. This case has no connection with the one against the board of governors of the Elks' lodge, charged with keeping a tippling house open on Sunday.

HE KNEW HIS SHIP WAS GOING TO BOTTOM

Newcastle, England, July 9.—Foreknowledge of the fate of his ship, the Mount Oswald, which, with her crew of twenty-four men, was never heard of after her departure from Baltimore for Hamburg, on February 17, 1912, was shown in a letter from Captain Stannard to his wife, read today during the board of trade inquiry into the loss of the vessel. In this letter, sent ashore at Baltimore by the pilot, Captain Stannard said:

"We have twelve feet of water in the fore peak and are not yet out of harbor. God knows whether we shall ever reach home. The sailors are now working at the pumps. I wanted the ship to be dry docked at New York, but the owners would not allow it."

BEATEN BULGARS CRY TO POWERS TO MAKE PEACE

Reports from the Balkans Indicate That War Is Going in Favor of Greeks and Servians.

CHOLERA IS MENACING CONTENDING FORCES

Slaughter So Great That It Is Difficult to Care for Dead and Wounded—Roumania to Invade Bulgaria.

London, July 9.—Out of the welter of conflicting stories from the Balkans' battlefields it is almost impossible to sift the truth. This was markedly illustrated tonight, a dispatch from The Daily Telegraph correspondent at Uskup dated Tuesday night, reporting that there had hardly been any fighting in the last few days, while Belgrade dispatches reported further Servian victories.

Bulgarians Are Losing.

There seems to be little doubt that General Ivanoff's army is steadily retiring before the victorious Greeks, and it is reported that the Bulgarians have evacuated Kavala and Dedeagatch.

Whether there is any truth in Vienna reports that Bulgaria has applied to the powers to arrange peace is not known, but it would appear not unlikely, since clearly things are not going well with the Bulgarians and the outbreak of cholera in many points in the field, combined with the exhaustion of the armies by the fierceness of the struggle, is calculated to render some such solution welcome to the combatants.

This is especially so because of the uncertainty of the policy of Roumania, which is now reported to be equally ready to attack either Servia or Bulgaria as occasion may demand in order to prevent a disturbance of the Bulgarian equilibrium.

Difficult to Handle Dead.

The problem of dealing with the dead and wounded is proving very serious. The nursing resources in Belgrade are woefully insufficient. It is stated that the Servians have permitted a pause in the operations to allow removal of wounded and interment of dead and carrying out of sanitary measures.

The Greek government has made *urgent representations to the Euro*pean government against massacres and atrocities alleged to have been committed by the Bulgarian troops and irregulars, declaring that in the event of defenseless Greek populations being left to their fate, Greece will be obliged to take rigorous measures to put an end to Bulgarian atrocities.

A Greek official statement asserts that instead of 5,000, as alleged by Bulgaria, General Ivanoff's army consisted of 120,000 men.

GOVERNMENT'S OFFER TO BULGARIA READY TO NEGOTIATE PEACE

Vienna, Austria, July 9.—The Bulgarian government is reported to have sent a circular note to European powers expressing its readiness to negotiate for peace.

The Bulgarian and Servian commanders in chief are stated here to be already negotiating an armistice, as the losses of both armies in killed and wounded are so immense and it is feared that the epidemic of cholera which has broken out among the troops may get beyond control.

The new Preis Presse understands that Bulgaria proposes to negotiate on the basis of the treaty before the war regarding the allocation of Macedonian territory. The latter believes the circular to the powers was probably sent out as a feeler to find out whether the powers were inclined to drop the principle of non-intervention by mediating between the belligerents.

London, July 9.—The invasion of Bulgaria by the Roumanian army, whose mobilization will be completed this week, will begin forthwith, according to Roumanian diplomats here, if in the meanwhile the reports of the hostilities appear to be going against Servia.

It is asserted that the sole object of Roumania is to insure against any disturbance of the balance of the power in the Balkans being detrimental to her interests, be in the event of Bulgaria's becoming too successful. Should the Servians be victorious in the war Roumania is prepared to intervene on the side of Bulgaria with the same object in view. At the same time Roumania is always shaping her course to secure her own future safety by the acquisition of what she considers an adequate strategical frontier—namely, the line from Turtukai, on the Danube, to Baltchik, on the Black sea.

BULGARIANS BEING DRIVEN BY THE FORCES OF GREECE

Athens, July 9.—An official bulletin issued tonight says the Greeks on Tuesday attacked the mountain passes towards Strumitza. The Bulgarians, reinforced, perhaps from Istip, offered vigorous resistance, but were steadily driven back.

The Greeks occupied some of the passes, but the fighting was stopped by darkness, with the expectation that it would be resumed Wednesday. Later bulletins declared the Bulgarians are in headlong flight through the defiles, the Greeks having made a night frontal attack on Strumitsa, forcing the Bulgarians to abandon their positions with heavy losses.

Private dispatches report the evacuation of Kavala by the Bulgarians.

Heat-Crazed, He Drowned Self.

Mobile, Ala., July 9.—A heat-maddened fireman of the British steamship Glenbridge, plunged overboard and drowned just outside the harbor of Havana. The vessel arrived here today. A two hours' search by the vessel's crew had failed to locate the body. The fireman had tried pouring water on his head. This failing, he threw himself into the sea.

EXPERIMENT FARM MUST HAVE MONEY

Continuation of Government Contribution Hinges on Adequate Support by State, Says U. S. Inspector.

Griffin, Ga., July 9.—(Special.)—The meeting of the board of directors of the state experiment station here today was one of greatest importance and was attended with the utmost harmony throughout. Director R. J. H. DeLoach appeared with the board for the first time and expressed himself as delighted with the bright prospects before the station. The entire board expressed willingness to co-operate with Mr. DeLoach in all his plans for *the reorganization of the entire sta*tion system.

A legislative committee consisting of J. J. Flint, J. D. Price, J. H. Mabley, J. W. McWhorter and R. J. H. DeLoach was appointed by unanimous vote to appear before the present session of the general assembly and represent the interests of the station. This committee will ask for an increased state appropriation to the station, in order that the federal requirements and suggestions may be complied with. Since the recent criticisms of the station by the government the board of directors find it absolutely necessary for increased appropriations to be made if the station is to exist at all. The amount to be asked for is not yet stated, but in all probability it will run up to several thousand dollars.

Visit by U. S. Inspector Tuks.

Dr. E. W. Allen, inspector representing *the national agricultural depart*ment, whose criticisms were the cause of the recent ruling against the local station, causing its appropriation to be endangered, was present at the meeting and addressed the board. Very plainly he pointed out to the directors just how the government thought its appropriation has been used contrary to directions, and also explicitly stated what must be done for the appropriation to be continued. He declared it to be the purpose of the national department in making the appropriation that the $30,000 contributed annually should be used exclusively in making scientific experiments from which increased knowledge should be gained for the benefit of the farming classes. He stated that the national department supposed that each state would make appropriations sufficient to maintain all physical equipment, so that the national appropriation might not be touched for this purpose.

He stated that in all probability the appropriation would be continued, should complete compliance with national requirements be made. Otherwise he thought it would be withdrawn.

His address was the most important feature of the meeting, and his suggestions were considered at length by the directors. As a consequence, the board decided to comply in fullest details to his suggestion and the requirements of the national department, and to petition the present general assembly to make appropriation sufficient to carry on all physical work, so that the $30,000 might be used exclusively for scientific experimentation. With this purpose in mind the legislative committee was appointed.

Depends on Appropriation.

Dr. Allen agreed to recommend the continuance of the national contribution to the national authorities, provided Georgia would make appropriations that the $30,000 would not be misused. As it is today, it all depends on what the general assembly shall do as to whether or not Georgia's experiment farm shall continue in existance.

Director DeLoach states his intention of completely re-organizing the entire work of the station and putting it on a more scientific basis, making the station decidedly an experimental farm rather than merely a model farm. With this purpose in view he will immediately proceed to introduce several new projects. One feature to be installed at once is the department of animal husbandry, the manner of which was appointed today. Professor Perry Van Ewing, who has been connected with the state experimental farms of Ohio and Kansas, has been appointed head of this department.

Those present at the board meeting today were as follows: Hon. J. D. Price, Chancellor D. C. Barrow, Judge J. J. Flint, Messrs. R. C. Neely, J. W. Andrews, F. R. Mann, M. G. Gamble, W. H. Henderson, J. W. McWhirter, J. H. Mobley. Dr. Andrew M. Soule, of the state agricultural college was not present. Dr. E. W. Allen, representing the department of agriculture, was in attendance.

At noon a barbecued dinner was served the board of directors by Mr. DeLoach.

A FRIEND IN NEED

—is The Constitution's Classified. Since 1868 it has helped people buy, sell and exchange to advantage. It has brought the man and the position together. Filled vacant rooms, houses and offices with desirable tenants.

Employers depend on it. Bookkeepers, stenographers, salesmen—the great army of workers use it to advantage.

Is there laundering, scrubbing, painting, sodding to be done, it gets the man or the woman for the one that wants him.

The many wants that are part of your daily life are quickly filled through its efforts.

So, no matter what or when you want, The Constitution's Classified is your friend indeed.

VOTE FOR U. S. SENATOR WAS QUOTED AT $6,000

In Addition $100 a Day Allowed for Expense in West Virginia.

Webster Springs, W. Va., July 9.—Joseph A. McClane, United States Senator Davis Elkins's manager during the latter's campaign in West Virginia last winter, was a witness today in the trial of Nath Duff for alleged bribery in connection with legislative selection of a senator.

"A vote for senator is worth $6,000 and $100 a day expense money," McClane said Duff told him when he asked Duff to vote for Elkins. "Duff informed me he had four votes to deliver," continued McClane and I offered him $16,000 in an offer to ascertain whether other senatorial candidates were expending money. He refused to inform me save the four votes were and left me saying he was joking."

Detective Guy Reidinger, who entrapped the indicted legislators, testified Duff had demanded $10,000 for his vote for W. S. Edwards for the senatorship and that Duff said the price was too low. He said Duff told him McClane had offered him $16,000 for four votes with $100 a day for expenses.

"NOVEMBER" WEDDING COMES OFF IN JULY; WAS A DEEP SECRET

When the really important event of your life is going to take place there is no use of putting it off longer than necessary. At least this is the philosophy that Cupid teaches and the little god was the most important and mightiest on Mount Olympus, despite Jove and his thunder bolts. It was the following of this idea that brought about the wedding bells last night for pretty Miss Myrle McLean, of 250 Bass street, and Gordon Hanson, of 168 Davis street. The couple had been engaged for some weeks and everything was being planned for a wedding in November.

To hurry matters up, the bride told a friend who called upon Dr. John F Purser, of 204 Lee street, and made arrangements for the wedding to be held at his house that very night. This friend had to tell someone else, though, and that some one else just had to let The Constitution in on the matter.

When the wedding, which was to be kept a secret and not announced until next Sunday, was to take place, a reporter had been notified in time to be present, and he did actually disturb the minister while he was tying the knot. But ministers are used to being disturbed and he went back and tied the knot just as well as if there had never been an interruption.

Then the reporter asked the minister about the wedding, and the minister said, "yes, he had married a couple, but it was all a secret and the reporter would have to wait until Sunday." It was then that the reporter told him names of the pair who had been made happy and it was all out, and now everybody will know it.

The happy couple forgot their joy at the wedding long enough to find out within a very short time afterwards that not only a reporter knew about the affair, but that nearly every one of their friends did, too, and now they are wondering which one of those friends it was who told the reporter.

CARDS OF PURE GOLD FOR GOLDEN WEDDING

St. Petersburg, July 9.—Society has been surprised here by a remarkable novelty in invitations issued for the golden wedding celebration of W. Spiridinoff, a very wealthy man in Moscow. All of the two hundred invitations are on cards of pure gold, each weighing three-quarters of an ounce, and the words are wrought in enamel.

HEADS SUFFRAGISTS.

MRS. MARY L. McLENDON.

FIGHT EXPECTED TODAY IN SUFFRAGE MEETING

Atlanta Leaguers, Who Held Stormy Meeting Wednesday, May Ask Representation.

Whether the Atlanta Civic league will fight for recognition on the floor of the suffrage convention or organize a new state association will not be known until the Georgia Woman's Suffrage association convenes in the Temple of Labor at 10 o'clock this morning.

Claiming that they have paid their dues to the state association, Mrs. Frances Whiteside's followers insist that they are entitled to recognition by the state body, but Mrs. Mary L. McLendon, president of the state association, denies that the civic leaguers have paid dues, and says she will not recognize their delegates to the convention.

"Rumors of a rival state organization, soon to be organized, have put us on our mettle, and we have retained counsel to protect our rights," said Mrs. Mary L. McLendon.

"There is but one legal Georgia Woman's Suffrage association," said L. J. Grossman, counsel for the Georgia association, in an address before the Atlanta, Civic league Wednesday afternoon, in which he urged that harmony was necessary for the success of woman suffrage.

Meeting Will Decide Fight.

The outcome of the election of officers at today's meeting will determine the official stand which the Atlanta Civic league will take. Mrs. Harry Smith, president of the civic league, acted in the role of peacemaker at the stormy session Wednesday afternoon, but she was unable to reconcile those members who felt that the cause of suffrage should come above factional fights, and the one officer of the league left the meeting after a futile appeal for harmony and recognition of the state association. Several members have threatened to resign.

Two executive officers of the Atlanta Civic league have already applied for membership in the Atlanta Equal Suffrage association, resigning from the civic league. Other civic leaguers will attend the state convention and deliver addresses in favor of harmony today.

However, Mrs. Whiteside says she is not worried, and her followers insist

HOTELS INVOLVED BY STORY OF VICE YOUNG GIRL TELLS

Soda Water Stands, Chop Suey Joints and Automobile Rides Figure in Her Narrative.

NAME OF BUSINESS MAN BROUGHT INTO SCANDAL

Hattie Smith Says She Registered With Men in Cumberland and Brittain—Recorder Binds Over Three.

A story of vice that is unprecedented even in the sorbid history of police court, was poured into the ears of Judge Broyles Wednesday afternoon, when Hattie Smith, the 17-year-old "Girl of the Streets," was called to the stand.

She made no attempt to withhold anything. She gave names and addresses with startling willingness and told of her own crimson career with a frankness so bold that color was drawn to even the cheeks of the most morbid courtroom frequenter.

As a result, Lena Barnhart, alias Lena Levison, the good looking young woman whom the girl accused of being a white slave procuress, was bound over to higher courts under bond of $500, and Lige Murry, who was charged with having been the woman's ally, was bound over under bond of $100.

Three Hotels in Case.

The names of three hotels were drawn into the girl's tale. They are the Cumberland, in which she was arrested and in which she declares she plied her trade; the Childs, a hostelry at Broad and Alabama streets, and the Brittain, which is situated on the west Mitchell street in the Terminal station district.

The manager and proprietor of the Cumberland, C. Y. Kistner, was severely rebuked by the recorder. No action, however, was taken against him. He was the only official of the three implicated establishments who appeared at the trial. He came in answer to a summons instructing him to produce the hotel register in court.

The Smith girl and the man with whom she was arrested, Clyde Cox, a youth also seventeen-years-old, were bound over. Their bonds were assessed at $100 each. The girl it is stated, will be held as a witness for cases for city court when the cases are called in that tribunal.

The Barnhart woman, who is the mother of a 5-year-old child, is a flashy dresser. She is a tall woman, dark haired and with light gray eyes. She wore jewelry on her wrists and fingers and her ears were adorned with heavy bobs.

Said She Was Benefactor.

She did not deny association with her accuser. Her intimacy, she stated, was from a benevolent standpoint, however, as she undertook to help the girl in the Cumberland solely because she was destitute and forsaken on the streets.

It was Saturday two weeks ago that they met. The girl unfolded a tale of frequenting a soda fount on James street near Cone, where she noticed the Barnhart woman at each visit. She was attracted to her, the girl said, because of her striking appearance, her dress and her apparent popularity with men who congregated at the place.

On the particular Saturday, she told, she had made inquiry of the woman's identity. Shortly later, a male acquaintance invited her to take an automobile ride. She accepted, and, upon going to the machine, was introduced to the Barnhart woman who sat on the front seat. A party of two men carried the girls on the ride to the river at the Peavis Ferry road.

Upon returning to Atlanta at nightfall, the Smith girl said she was invited by the Barnhart woman to accompany her to the Carnegie library, where they went into the ladies' rest room. Miss Barnhart, she said, suggested that they go together to the Cumberland, at which she was stopping, where she could obtain the "girl of the streets" an apartment.

Would Be Safer, She Said.

Miss Barnhart went first, advising that it was safer and would not create suspicion. Hattie followed 10 minutes later. She went to the room of Miss Barnhart, and found that room 45 had been assigned her. The Barnhart woman said that she had given the girl a new name, "Luelle Evans," which she had placed on the hotel register.

On the streets, a short time afterward, she was picked up by an automobiling party who carried her to the Marietta street home of her parents, at 9 o'clock. Thursday night she returned to the woman at the Cumberland, and made an engagement with Clyde Cox, who was arrested with her Sunday night.

The following night she went to the Hotel Brittain with a man named Brower, from Washington, and he registered "Mr. and Mrs. Brower." The next morning, she was telephoned by Miss Barnhart and asked to meet her. She rode from the Brittain to the Empire life building in a taxicab to keep the appointment.

The girl told of having occupied apartments in the Childs hotel, but could not recollect the name under which she had registered. She also told of frequenting Joe Jung's Chop Suey restaurant on Luckie street. Charley Hilligr, attorney for the Barnhart woman, asked her regarding salacious stories in connection with the Luckie street place. Strong denial was made of them all.

Got an Auto Ride.

An incident characteristic of the career she had led on the streets, was related when the attorney questioned the girl about alleged relations with an automobilist named Lorman. She stated that she had seen him only once, and that was during an afternoon that she stood on an uptown corner when the man drove by in his machine. She wanted to ride home and as Lorman drove by she gave him a smile, later jumping into the car at his invitation and being carried to the Marietta street address.

At this juncture of the girl's story, the Cumberland register was displayed before the court. The name of "Luelle Evans" was revealed in the handwriting which she declared was not hers. The name of Lena Lovison was also shown. She did identify, however, the assumed name twice in her own script.

Proprietor Kistner declared to the recorder that both the Smith girl and the Barnhart woman had conducted themselves as "perfect ladies" in his hotel, and that he could have found no reason for ejecting them before their records were aired in police court.

Girl Wore Shabby Clothes.

"When I first met Miss Smith," the Barnhart woman explained when placed on the stand, "we went on a joy ride from James street to the river. She wore shabby clothing and was dusty and dirty upon returning to town. I carried her into the library to make a toilette so as to look presentable for the streets.

"She said that her parents had driven her from home, that she was penniless and had no place to stay. Out of the goodness of my heart, I carried her to the Cumberland. She came into my apartments and I gave her a nightgown and kimono. I could not account for their disappearance until I saw her wearing them.

"My attitude toward the girl was that of a benefactor. I did not encourage her to do wrong—I would not have. I suspected that she was not straight; but, even at that, I felt sympathy for her."

Woman's Baby Taken.

When Judge Broyles asked the woman how she provided a livelihood for herself and baby, she answered:

"At present, my mother is providing for me. I have quit the old life and have reformed. I obtained a position several weeks ago with the Oriental Dry Cleaning company, but Mr. Young, the manager, was visited by men who said they were detectives and told of my past, with the result that I was instantly discharged."

A pathetic incident to the trial was noted when the judge ordered detectives to take the woman's baby before the juvenile courts and have it awarded to the Home for the Friendless, with this rebuke:

"You are not fit to be a mother. You can't raise a child in the life you are leading. It will see a brighter day when it is installed in a charitable home."

Atlanta No Place for You.

In concluding the trial, the recorder said:

"I am satisfied you are a procuress. The best thing for you to do is to leave town. Atlanta is no place for women such as you."

In regard to the name of a prominent business man which was brought before the court by the girl's story, who told of having been taken to the Barnhart woman's room, the recorder said that he would take no present action—that it was up to the police to act, as Chief Beavers had heard the evidence submitted.

When asked by reporters if he intended arresting this man, the chief said that he would make immediate investigation, and, if he found the story was true, would have him arraigned in court.

GEORGIAN MIXED WITH BAD CROWD

So Farmers' Union President Smith Describes His Association With the Opponents of Free Sugar.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, July 9.—(Special.)—Evidence that the name and influence of the Farmers' union was unfairly used by R. D. Bowen, of Texas, to aid the sugar lobby before congress, was submitted to the lobby investigating committee today by E. A. Smith, of Georgia, and H. H. Mobley, of Arkansas.

Under the guise of a meeting called to devise means to combat the trade in cotton goods, representatives of seven state unions were induced by Mr. Bowen to go to New Orleans to take part in such a discussion. Their expenses were paid by Mr. Bowen.

After the meeting they sent telegrams and letters to the representatives and senators from their states urging them not to go into the democratic caucus on the tariff bill until they heard further evidence which the Farmers' union would submit. C. S. Barrett, the national president, was not present at the meeting, not having been invited.

Addresses were made before the New Orleans meeting by C. B. Bryant, of North Carolina, secretary of the American Cotton Manufacturers' association, and N. D. Colcock, secretary of the New Orleans sugar exchange, who represented the sugar trust interests before committees of congress. Mr. Colcock talked of both cotton and sugar. He said the tariff bill would cause a loss of $150,000,000 a year to the cotton farmers.

All Expenses Paid.

L. A. Smith, state president of the Farmers' union of Georgia, was formerly postmaster at Tennille. Shortly after being elected president in April of last year he received a telegram from Mr. Bowen asking him to attend a conference in New Orleans to discuss plans to increase the consumption of cotton. Mr. Smith said he was not inclined to go, and wired that he was ill, as he really was not feeling well. Mr. Bowen followed his telegram up with a letter, offering to pay all the expenses of the trip.

"On the twenty-ninth of April I received a second telegram," said Mr. Smith, "and finally decided I would go and see what it was all about, and how they proposed to increase the consumption of cotton. Others present at the meeting were Mr. Taylor, of Oklahoma; Mitchell, of Mississippi; Loyd, of Texas, and Mobley, of Arkansas."

"You say this meeting was not called in the interest of sugar?"

"No, sir; I never found out what it was called for, but a couple of letters were written memorializing our congressmen to hold up caucus action until we could present them further evidence.

In the Wrong Pew.

"The Farmers' union men were far outnumbered by the outsiders. When I heard the addresses I knew I had gotten into the wrong pew."

"I reckon I'm a farmer," Smith told the committee.

"Was any action taken in regard to sugar at that meeting?" asked Senator Overman.

"I don't think so. There were some letters written to senators. I wrote to Senators Bacon and Smith."

Smith testified that his expenses at the New Orleans meeting was paid by I. D. Brown, president of the Texas branch of the union, and that President Barrett, of the national organization, was not present.

Smith said he heard many arguments at the meeting about the bad effect free sugar would have on the cotton industry.

"I thought I was in the wrong place," said Smith.

"It was more of a manufacturers' meeting than a farmers," suggested Overman.

"Yes, sir; so much so that I made a speech about it," said Smith.

Urged Bacon to Shun Caucus.

Smith explained later that he telegraphed to Senator Bacon not to go into the democratic caucus until it was assured that a duty would be put on meats and other farm products.

Smith said when he got back to Georgia he found he had been "mixed up with a bad crowd." He then learned, he said, that the meeting was really called to work against free sugar.

His letters to Bacon and Smith were requests that the farmers' interests be looked after.

H. H. Mobley, of Prairie Grove, Ark., president of the State Farmers' union, said he was at the New Orleans meeting.

"There is a suspicion in my mind that things were not just what they ought to have been, but I don't know much about it," said Mobley.

"I'm slow to make accusations," said Mobley. "But I have come to know that at all our meetings, state and national, we are surrounded by men who want us to do something for their interests.

"I feel, like Mr. Smith, that there was something wrong at New Orleans."

Whitman Tells of Wool "Lobby."

William Whitman, of Boston, former president of the National Association of Wool Manufacturers, was on the stand much of the day. Mr. Whitman told about his interest in tariff legislation beginning 1873. He got only so far as the Dingley bill in 1897, when the committee adjourned. Whitman said he had been especially active at the time the Dingley bill was before the house ways and means committee. At the suggestion of Chairman Dingley he said he had tried to get the wool growers and manufacturers to get together on a wool duty that would be agreeable to all. Senator Reed tried to make him admit that the duties he wanted appeared in the bill.

"I never got what I wanted," insisted the witness.

LAMAR MAY BE HALED BEFORE FEDERAL COURT

New York, July 9.—United States District Attorney Marshall admitted today that he was investigating the activities of David Lamar with a view to bringing them to the attention of the grand jury if the facts warran.

Among the federal statutes which he is studying in connection with the case is Section 32 of the Federal Criminal code which provides a fine of $1,000 or three years' imprisonment for "whoever with intent to defraud either the United States or any person, shall falsely assume or pretend to be an officer or employee acting under the authority of the United States, or any department of any officer of the government thereof, and shall take upon himself to act as such, or shall in such pretended character demand or obtain from any officer of the government thereof or any person, any money, papers, documents, or any other valuable thing."

It is believed that the question of whether a congressman is an officer of the government, the deputy unearthed an opinion rendered by United States Attorney Benjamin Harris Brewster in 1852 which read:

"Unquestionally a member of congress is a public officer in a broad and general way and the incumbent of such office must be considered as an officer of the government."

RAILWAY MAIL HEAD.

H. M. ROBINSON.

ROBINSON WILL HEAD FOURTH MAIL DIVISION

E. P. King Remains Assistant Superintendent and Cobb Becomes Chief Clerk.

Washington, July 9.—The reorganization of the railway mail service for the fourth division, embracing the states of Georgia, Alabama, Florida, South Carolina and Tennessee, has been perfected by Postmaster General Burleson, after a conference with General Superintendent Alex H. Stephens and Second Assistant Postmaster General Stewart.

Harry M. Robinson, a native Atlantan, becomes superintendent of the division, with headquarters in Atlanta, vice George W. Pepper, transferred to Cleveland, Ohio, as a chief clerk.

Edward P. King, of Atlanta, retains his place as assistant superintendent.

George J. Cobb, of Cartersville, becomes chief clerk at Atlanta, vice Charles E. Rager transferred to San Francisco, as chief clerk of the eighth division.

W. L. M. Austin, of Atlanta, is promoted to a chief clerkship and transferred from the Atlanta-Charlotte run to Jacksonville, Fla., vice Charles E. Beavers, transferred to Pittsburg, Pa., as chief clerk.

The official order making the change will be issued at once.

Harry Robinson, the new superintendent at Atlanta, leaves a similar position in the twelfth division, with headquarters at New Orleans. No one has been selected to fill the vacancy thus created, and the duties of the New Orleans office will be performed by John Day, the assistant superintendent of the twelfth division.

It is believed that either King, Cobb or Austin will be selected for superintendent at New Orleans.

Mr. Robinson is one of the best known men in the service, with which he has been identified for years. He was in charge of the United States mails in Cuba during the Spanish-American war, and made such a fine record that he was sent to China by the postoffice department during the Boxer uprising. Later he established the mail service in Alaska. When the twelfth division was created some years ago, he was given its superintendency.

George Cobb, the new chief clerk at Atlanta, has worked for many years in the railway mail service. He is at present a "clerk in charge" on the Atlanta-Nashville railway postoffice. His record for efficiency is without a blemish.

W. L. M. Austin, who goes to Jacksonville as chief clerk, was an active applicant for the superintendency of the division and was strongly indorsed for the position.

Mr. King was also an applicant for the superintendency and the rivalry between him and Austin made the reorganization a difficult problem for the postoffice department.

SLAYING OF GEN. RIVA HAS STIRRED HAVANA

Havana, July 9.—Not since the death of Maximo Gomez have there been such widespread manifestations of grief as attended the announcement this morning that General Armando Riva, chief of the Cuban national police, had died during the night. The body was escorted at noon to the council room of the municipal palace, where it lay in state. Thousands passed through the chamber during the day.

President Menocal, in officially announcing the death, directed that the honors due a major general dying in action be accorded at the funeral ceremonies tomorrow afternoon.

The supreme court is still discussing the mode of prosecution of the assailants of General Riva, the impression being that the court will decide to exclude the contention of congressional immunity in the case of Representative Arias and Senator Vidal Morales, and direct their trial before the ordinary courts. General Asbert likely will be arraigned before the supreme court.

Public sentiment is still running high in consequence of rumors that friends of General Riva intend to wreak summary vengeance on Asbert, and that the adherents of the governor, who are numerous in the rural districts of Havana province, are plotting to effect a rescue and precipitate a revolution.

The precautions which the government has taken appear amply efficient to preclude such action.

Fighting Ticks in Baldwin.

Milledgeville, Ga., July 9.—(Special.) Drs. Lewis and Bennets, who are in charge of the cattle tick eridication work in this county, were in the city this week looking over the situation and arranging for the construction of a number of new dipping vats. Dr. Lewis' headquarters are in Eatonton and from that point he is carrying on the work in several middle Georgia counties.

GAINESVILLE POSTOFFICE TO CAUSE MORE TROUBLE

Confirmation of Mrs. Ham Won't End Fight—Bell Expected to Make Statement.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, July 9.—(Special.)—After tomorrow the battle over the Gainesville, Ga., postoffice will be transferred to another arena. Mrs. H. W. J. Ham will be confirmed and the controversy removed from the attention of the United States senate.

That it is not all over, however, is proven by the attitude of Representative Thomas M. Bell. He has had nothing to say since the president turned down his friends, A. S. Hardy, and selected Mrs. Ham. That he will attempt to fix the responsibility for his defeat upon Senator Hoke Smith is generally understood.

What course Mr. Bell will follow hereafter in regard to postoffice appointments he has not yet indicated. Whether he will be reconciled to take what he can get or will refuse to make any further nominations, his most intimate friends do not know.

Mrs. Longstreet's statement before the subcommittee of the senate postoffice committee on May 19 was published today. It makes sixty-eight printed pages, or about 40,000 words.

In explaining her appearance before the committee Mrs. Longstreet said:

"Oh, my country'men, in this year which has given a democratic president to the nation, because I fought the battles of the people I have been surrounded as Christ was surrounded. With Him I have wept under the sad stars of a new Gethsemane by the way of the cross in the agony of Calvary—keeping faith always with One whose eternal game of solitaire runs in the line of simplummer—pure in motive, catholic in love, immaculate in conception, beyond the wisdom in execution.'

"In the purple twilights and in the gray dawns, after I had laid all of the little property I owned on the vested rights of my people and upon the commission of the office which I held, my soul has known one prayer for strength to pay the price which Woodrow Wilson administering might demand—the pearl of great price—the good name of one of the greatest writers of modern times.

"In the darkness of that starless Gethsemane my soul cried to the divine power which unsheaths the lightning and upholds the planet.

"'You may save me or you may sink me, but I will hold the rudder true.'"

The senate postoffice committee has reported that Mrs. Longstreet as postmaster was "efficient, capable and satisfactory."

It was because of the charge that her administration had not been efficient that Mrs. Longstreet asked to be heard in her own defense. She did not oppose Mrs. Ham's confirmation.

The postmaster general in a communication to the committee said the question of the efficiency or inefficiency of Mrs. Longstreet was not considered by him in appointing her successor in office.

MUSCOGEE'S FINANCES IN GOOD CONDITION

Audit Shows County Is Out of Debt and Has $35,271.76 in Bank.

Columbus, Ga., July 9.—(Special.)—An audit of the books of Muscogee county, just completed, shows that the county is out of debt, has $35,271.76 in the bank and owns public buildings, bridges, etc., valued at $600,000.

This county has been under the commission form of government since 1871, and for a number of years the condition was embarrassing, and its script sold below par. Muscogee was, perhaps, the first Georgia county to adopt the commission form of government. The bill providing for the appointment of a board of commissioners was prepared by the late Hon. Louis F. Garrard, and Mr. Garrard served on the board until the time of his death, a few years ago. His son, Hon. Frank T. Garrard, is now chairman of the board, the other commissioners being L. A. Scarborough and J. C. Alexander.

Muscogee county owns a modern courthouse and jail, and is actively engaged in building good roads, this work being in charge of an expert engineer.

$17,000,000 INCREASE ASKED BY TRAINMEN

New York, July 9.—Long conferences of the eastern railroads' conductors and trainmen's representatives was held at their headquarters today, but the only development bearing upon the threatened strike of the 100,000 men involved in the wage dispute with the roads was a statement by President W. G. Lee, of the trainmen's brotherhood, containing further arguments for the increases demanded. This drew forth a reply from Chairman Elisha Lee, of the conference committee of managers.

Neither statement threw further light upon the probable outcome of the dispute, both apparently playing for time in view of the meeting here next Saturday of the employees' committee of one thousand, which is expected then to ratify the overwhelming vote of the men for a strike and bring the controversy to a crisis.

President Lee, in his statement, compared freight conductors and trainmen's wages in various sections of the country. Based on a ten hour day and a 100 mile run, he said, western conductors receive $4.18 a day and trainmen $3.78, and in the south the respective wages are $4.10 and $2.75, as against $3.63 for conductors and $2.42 for trainmen in the east.

Chairman Elisha Lee, of the managers' committee, in reply stated that the "asked for increases would amount to $17,000,000 annually, following a previous appreciation in 1910 of $30,000,000," and that the principal argument for higher pay based on wages of similar employment west and south is fallacious, because "these higher rates were secured through coercion."

CENTRAL CLUB TO GIVE ANNUAL 'CUE TODAY

The Central club will hold its annual barbecue today in honor of its members and their friends on the Chattahoochee river. The 'cue will take place between the hours of 2:30 and 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon and arrangements are in charge of Harry Smith and Charlie Grambley.

SHOOTING AT NEIGHBOR, DODGINGTON KILLS WIFE

Not Knowing Wife Was Dead, Dodgington Kept Shooting at Enemy.

Anadarko, Okla., July 9.—During the progress of a dispute near Carnegie, Okla., today in relation to his title to a six-foot row of beans, D. A. Dodgington shot at A. S. Jones, his neighbor. The bullet went wide and struck and killed Mrs. Dodgington, thirty feet away. Unaware of the result of his first shot, Dodgington empted his pistol at Jones, this time seriously wounding Benjamin Robinson, a bystander.

Dodgington fled when a posse of farmers gathered and surrendered to the sheriff at Anadarko, where he was placed in jail.

that the working women of Atlanta and the school teachers will flock to the civic league, which will seek recognition by the national association.

Meetings for Today.

At 9:30 o'clock this morning in the Temple of Labor there will be a meeting of the executive committee of the state association. The convention will be called to order at 10 o'clock by the president for a business session.

The executive committee will meet again at 1:30 o'clock, following an adjournment for lunch, and at 3 o'clock the convention will be called to order by the president and the Lord's Prayer will be repeated in concert.

A fight at the afternoon session for seats on the floor of the convention is likely on the part of the Atlanta Civic league. At this session officers will be named.

The concluding session of the convention will be held Thursday night at the capitol. A feature of the Thursday night meeting will be the introduction of the newly-elected president.

Suffragists Meet in Capitol.

An enthusiastic audience filled the hall of representatives at the first session of the suffragist convention Wednesday evening, following the invocation by Rev. George Beattie the twenty-third Psalm was repeated in concert and the delegates sang "America."

Representative John Y. Smith welcomed the suffragists to the capitol for the state of Georgia, following the reading of a communication from Governor John Marshall Slaton, who was prevented from attending the convention because of an important committee meeting.

President Marks, of the Georgia Federation of Labor, and Rev. George A. Beattie then addressed the delegates, and Miss Eugenia Estill responded for the women. Mrs. Margaret T. McWhorter spoke of the fruits of equal suffrage and "Woman in Civic Life" was the subject of the address by Mrs. Susan B. Cunningham, vice president of the Alabama Equal Suffrage association and recently elected president of the DeKalb county suffrage club. The address of the state president, Mrs. Mary L. McLendon, concluded the program.

Judge Robert L. Rodgers made an address.

HUSKY WOMEN SOUGHT FOR THE POLICE FORCE

Chicago, July 9.—It is the opinion of Chicago suffragists that a woman policeman—Mayor Harrison has asked that ten of them be appointed—should have the following qualifications:

She must be "husky."

She must have nerve.

She must have had experience in social service.

She must understand young people.

She must have common sense.

She must have ideals.

The demand for a corps of police women has created considerable excitement among the many thousands of new women voters. The suffragists were keen in their discussion of what uniform the policewoman should wear. All agreed she should have a star. The more militant believed she should carry a revolver, but none took kindly to the idea of a policewoman swinging a club.

Mrs. Gertrude Howe Britton, of the Juvenile Protective league, who was chiefly influential in persuading the mayor that Chicago needs policewomen, asserted that the women officers should not be armed, but "should make their way with women's weapons," the chief of which is common sense."

Three Girls Drowned.

Durant, Okla., July 9.—Miss Alice Spell, of Durant, Miss Genevieve Jones and Miss Annie Halsell, of Bennington, Okla., were drowned near here last night in the Blue river. Their skiff capsized, due, it is said, to the young women rocking the boat. Miss Halsell's father, a member of the party, was rescued by fishermen who reached the spot after the girls had gone down. The bodies of the three young women were recovered today.

FOREST FIRES BLAZING ON MOUNT TAMALPAIS

Playground of Cities About San Francisco Bay Is Being Devastated.

San Francisco, July 9.—Forest fires are blazing fiercely tonight on three sides of Mount Tamalpais, a landmark of California, and playground and park of all the cities clustered about San Francisco bay. Three villages are threatened. The mountain was cloaked today by a mantle of white smoke which streamed across the bay like a wind blown scarf, but as darkness fell the mountain blazed above the bay and ocean like an enormous beacon, illuminating the sky for miles.

The fires are believed to have resulted from carelessness of campers.

Three thousand soldiers, sailors, naval apprentices, forest rangers, militiamen and volunteer fire fighters are fighting the flames, and the women in the threatened territory are working as hard as the men.

Shops are closed and business is at a standstill throughout the threatened section.

Colonel George Bell, sixteenth United States infantry, assisted by District Chief Dubois, of the forestry service, is directing the fight. Thus far there has been no loss of life and little damage to private property, although the possible damage is enormous and imminent.

Mount Tamalpais lies on the north side of San Francisco bay. Easy of access by ferry and electric lines, and one of the beauty spots of California, its foothills have become dotted with cities and villages, while on its slopes are hundreds of country homes of wealthy Californians.

Every week swarms of holiday seekers thread the trails of the mountains, and tourists from all over the country are familiar with its ascent. In the deep ravines hide groves of giant sequoias, the most beautiful of which has been conserved in a national park, named Muir Woods, for John Muir, the naturalist.

PATTERSON DEFENDS FORMER GOVERNOR

Man Who Charged Brown With Pardoning Escaped Convict Asked for Clemency for Negro.

It develops, according to Judge T. E. Patterson, that a great injustice was done to Governor Brown in a communication to a local paper published yesterday from S. M. Howard, of Barnesville. Mr. Howard charges the recent governor with having issued a pardon for an escaped convict.

The truth about the matter is this, the governor commuted the sentence of Tony Hightower, a paroled negro convict, on the recommendation of the prison board after he had served the regulation time in such cases. Of course the governor had no means of knowing whether or not the prisoner had broken his parole further than the information obtained from the prison commission. The executive order granting clemency has never been delivered and is now in the hands of the prison board.

Mr. Howard, who appeared before the prison commission and urged clemency for the negro, insisting that he was innocent and had been wrongfully convicted, is the man who compelled the commutation of the sentence, it is stated.

The History of Case.

The true history of the case is contained in the following letter from Judge T. E. Patterson, a member of the prison commission, who was appointed by former Governor Hoke Smith:

"Editor Constitution: In The Journal of today appears a communication signed by S. M. Howard, of Barnesville, Ga., in reference to he pardon by former Governor Brown of Tony Hightower that does Governor Brown an injustice.

"The facts are these, that Tony Hightower and two other negroes were paroled by Governor Slaton in January, 1912, largely on the showing and representation by Mr. Howard, the author of this card, and other citizens of Barnesville, one of whom was H. H. Gray, making it extremely doubtful that the negroes were guilty of the crime charged, that of robbery. Tony Hightower was paroled to H. H. Gray. Under the parole law the employer has to make reports monthly to this commission during the term of his parole. These reports were made until October, 1912, which was the last report filed by them, and in this report it was stated that the general conduct and association during the parole period of the prisoner, Hightower, was good. This was certified to by H. H. Gray, and the further certificate was that the prisoner has been honest, industrious and temperate. This was the last report received in our office concerning this prisoner, although Mr. Gray claims that after this he reported that Hightower had left him. This report was not received in this office, and our clerk wrote to Mr. Gray repeatedly and asked for reports on this prisoner and received no reply from him.

How Pardon Was Issued.

"In February of this year we had Mr. Gardiner, our parole clerk, to make up a list of all the paroled prisoners who had been out on parole more than a year and whose conduct was good and who were worthy of being discharged on final pardon. Mr. Gardiner in making up the list included Tony Hightower as one of those to be recommended for pardon, and the recommendation was duly made by our commission, and when reached by Governor Brown was approved by him and the pardon issued in due course.

"This is all there is to it and no censure is to be attached to anybody. Even if the prisoner had left Mr. Gray, if he was innocent as Mr. Howard claimed at the time of the original parole, he should not have been put back in the penitentiary for breaking his parols.

"Yours very truly,
"T. E. PATTERSON,
"Commissioner."

ROBS SAFE OF $300, HOLDS UP WATCHMAN

Daring Safe-Blower Busy Wednesday Morning at Scottdale Mills Store.

Held helpless at the point of a revolver in the hands of a daring safe-blower, J. W. Myers, night watchman at the Scottdale mills store in DeKalb county, was forced to stand with his hands hoisted at 3 o'clock yesterday morning and witness the escape of the crackerman who had blown the vaults of the establishment and made away with $300.

J. J. Crawford, a middle-aged man, who was arrested later in the day under suspicion of having committed the robbery, was released in the afternoon upon giving satisfactory accounts of his movements during the night. He is an acquaintance of Walter Turpin, the ex-convict who is held for blowing the safe of the Kirkwood postoffice recently.

The safe-cracker gained entrance to the Scottdale store through the front window after having broken the glass with a rock. The first the night watchman knew of the burglary was when he heard the sound of the explosion.

Myers, running from the rear of the building, was confronted by a man of medium height as he turned a corner. The stranger threw a revolver in the watchman's face, and while Meyers stood with hands aloft, made his escape.

ATTORNEYS GENERAL HEADED BY DAWSON

Charleston, S. C., July 9.—Officers of the National Association of Attorneys General which has been holding its annual convention at the Isle of Palms were elected today as follows: President, John S. Dawson, of Kansas; vice president, John H. Light, of Connecticut; secretary, Royall C. Johnson, of South Dakota; executive committee, Charles West, of Oklahoma, George Cosson of Iowa, James Tanner of Washington and Grant Martin of Nevada, the last named being the chairman.

The place for the next convention will be chosen by the American Bar association which is meeting at Montreal, Canada, the associations next year to meet together.

After adjournment the attorneys general were guests of the Charleston bar on a harbor excursion aboard the government steamship Cypress.

Mail Clerk to Be Tried.

J. R. Jackson, railway mail clerk on the Georgia railway between Atlanta and Augusta who was indicted by a federal grand jury May 28 for abstracting from the mail intrusted to his care a letter containing money will be arraigned before Judge Newman this morning for trial.

Storm Hits Brunswick.

Brunswick, Ga., July 9.—(Special)—Brunswick was visited by an electric storm at an early hour this morning which played havoc with telephone and telegraph wires and did considerable other damage. A bolt of lightning struck the postoffice building, smashing the manipole into smithereens. The bolt also struck two or three trees in front of the building. Over 300 telephones were put out of business, while some other little damage resulted.

Chattooga Peach Crop.

Lyerly, Ga., July 9.—Chattooga's peach crop is almost a complete failure this year for the first time in several years. The Elberta crop is a complete failure and there are a very few peaches of other kinds. The apple and pear crop is also very short.

DODGE

The Guarantee Is Stamped in the Bar

Dodge Bearing Metal was put upon the market because it made a success in the great Dodge factory.

For years Dodge had studied to produce a bearing metal for their own use—one that would run at varying speeds—producing the greatest efficiency in the shops.

That Dodge Bearing Metal is successful is proven by the fact that we have used it in the Dodge factory for twenty years.

It was put on the market as the result of an insistent demand for our formula.

Dodge Bearing Metal will meet every mill requirement, ranging from light loads and low speeds to high speeds and heavy loads.

Dodge Bearing Metal will not only last longer—but saves the cost of relining the bearing.

We will prepay the freight on the trial order of 100 lbs., so that you, too, may put wings on your power line.

Dodge Bearing Metal is packed 50 lbs. to the box. We will ship you a box on approval, prepaying the freight if your order calls for 100 lbs.

After a fair trial you may send the balance back if it does not prove every claim we make for it and we will refund your money.

Smart Suits of Summer Fabrics

¶ The suit a man buys to be cool in may just as well possess all the smartness of the heavier one.

¶ Summer fabrics are hard to tailor because of the loose weave and light weight, and great skill in handling is required to produce ideal results.

¶ A fig for the fabric if the style is not there! ¶ In a MUSE summer suit the style is very much there. It is tailored in. It controls the situation; it subordinates fabric to fit, and though your summer suit bears the true negligee air, it carries in its lines the imperishable stamp of good workmanship and fine style.

¶ And these good fabrics of comfortable and conforming weave are crash, tropical worsteds, mohairs and silk suitings.

AS TO DRINKING POLICEMEN.

The police commission has acted well in disciplining policemen charged with drinking and intoxication.

It has not gone far enough.

It is easy enough to say, "Let well enough alone." But it is not letting "well enough alone" so long as the policemen who protect life and property in this city may momentarily be transformed from guardians into menaces.

That is the omnipresent possibility as long as an officer drinks intoxicating liquors while in the service of the city.

For the better discharge of his duties the policeman carries a pistol. The citizen does not carry a pistol, or if he does so without obtaining a license he becomes a criminal. The citizen who takes a drink may at any time become unreasonable and violent. But as long as he is not armed with a deadly weapon his power for harm is minimized. The officer who takes a drink may, in a moment of dethroned judgment, inflict life and maiming upon no provocation whatever. His calling is one of extraordinary nature. He must submit to extraordinary restrictions or hunt another calling.

Most of the railroads of the United States now require that trainmen abstain from alcohol not only when on duty but as well when off duty. For the after-effects of intoxicants are as marked as their immediate influence. The same rule should apply to officers of the law. Upon applying for employment they should be given the choice between whisky and their jobs.

And the first conviction for intoxication should bring not suspension but discharge.

Men who work in powder factories are forbidden to smoke. That seems like curtailing their personal liberties. Yet safety is the paramount requirement.

The unslaked thirst of a few score public servants does not weigh in the balance against the safety of life and property!

A MELTING POT BILL.

The ways and means committee of the house may well throw into a melting pot all the measures looking toward tax reform and from the flux mold an effective and conservative law. A tendency in that direction is already noticeable. A subcommittee of the whole committee, with Representative L. R. Akin, of Glynn, as its chairman, has been appointed to investigate tax equalization and report. It is probable it will make known its findings in a day or two.

The Constitution has not been and is not now dogmatic over details as to the kind of tax reform needed. But we do urge the need of tax reform, per se, both as it touches the prompt payment of country school teachers and the dishonest and makeshift fiscal system of the state.

Details are matters to be adjudicated by the wisdom of the subcommittee, of the whole committee and of the house and senate themselves. We incline to the belief that it is best to make a modest beginning by installing a central board and giving it power of correction and equalization within prescribed bounds over county returns. This will accustom the people gradually to the change. Next year the state can go a step farther. Within a few years Georgia will be operating under a model tax law and the change will have come so imperceptibly and equitably that not the most carping or selfish interest will be given ground for just criticism.

The most important feature is that action must be taken at this present session of the legislature. It will be unpatriotic and lacking in statesmanship to postpone a beginning. It is not needful to tear down the whole structure with one charge of dynamite. But the work must at least be put under way. Advantage must be taken of the receptive condition of public sentiment, which is today more favorably disposed toward tax legislation than in years. It is best to compromise and get half a loaf than no bread at all.

HEDGING "RIVER" APPROPRIATIONS.

As we interpret the resolution passed by the appropriations committee of the house, there is to be a ban henceforth upon the pernicious practice of tagging all sorts of extravagant and dubious "riders" upon the general appropriations bill enacted by the Georgia legislature. The resolution provides that the general appropriations bill shall carry only the maintenance for the institutions regularly contemplated in the constitution. Any increases for these institutions aside from maintenance or increases for any new or special project, must be made the subject for a special bill.

The plan is really in the interests of true economy and of orderly procedure. Heretofore it has been a common custom in the Georgia legislature, as in the legislatures of other states and of congress itself, to engraft innumerable pet projects upon the general appropriations bill. The house has done this by direct action and the senate by amendment. As a result, items that really did not belong in the bill have been insinuated into it with a minimum of debate. In the last and heated hours of sessions, when both bodies were anxious to adjourn, these items have been the cause of many a deadlock, and, what is worse, of the triumph of unworthy causes in the haste of members to get away. As a consequence, the bill has gone to the governor after the general assembly adjourned. He had the alternative either of vetoing the whole bill and tying up the civil establishment or of signing and tacitly approving enterprises of which he might personally disapprove.

Governor Slaton directed attention to this undesirable condition in his inaugural address. The prompt response of the appropriations committee is gratifying. No Georgian and no member of the house or senate need fear oppression or injustice under the new order. No project that cannot stand the broad light of publicity and the searching test of debate deserves an appropriation. And those that are deserving will be duly taken care of so far as the artificially cramped resources of the state will permit.

GEORGIA'S CROP PROMISE.

Probably no organization in the state contains more accurate off-hand prophets regarding crop conditions than the Georgia legislature. A recent symposium of legislative views taken by The Constitution, therefore, is of unusual value. Representatives and senators from every part of the state were interviewed. To a man, almost, they declared that the outlook was for good crops in Georgia, approximating in some instances the large yields of 1911.

A significant feature of these expressions is that they disclose the steady progress of corn culture all over Georgia. Legislator after legislator said the farmers of his county were raising more corn and other grains than ever before. The uniform report was that corn was also in excellent condition. The same statement held true, proportionately, with hay, and here and there was encouraging news regarding the gradual enlargement of the live stock industry.

All these indications are of the most encouraging nature. Georgia has made great strides in manufacturing, but agriculture is yet the financial backbone of the larger part of the state. If the acres make good returns and prices hold firm the state is independent of outside sources. The fine showing made this year is an argument for further diversification. The state is violating all economic law as long as it sends outside its boundaries for a pound of meat or a bushel of grain.

A LETTER FROM MISSOURI.

The fulfillment of the prophecy of former Secretary of Agriculture Wilson that the south would eventually supply the nation with beef is already foreshadowed. W. H. Leahy, of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad, is in receipt of a letter from a firm in Henley, Mo., asking for quotations on five or six cars of southern cattle. This letter came as the result of extensive advertising by the A., B. & A. through the western states.

Unfortunately for Georgia, she is as yet unable to supply all the cattle the west, which formerly furnished the whole country with cattle, may need. She is herself sending outside the state to secure cattle and hogs for her packing houses, though we are breeding more of the proper sort of beef cattle than before.

The logical future of this state points to its making almost as much profit on cattle as on cotton. The industries do not conflict. On the other hand, the one helps the other. The advantage once given the west by its tremendous ranches is gone. Georgia is on an equality with the west in the matter of space and enjoys a handicap when it comes to climate. If we go into the cattle business on a sensible scale, we keep at home the millions we now needlessly send abroad; and we bring in other millions from those parts of the country unable to produce cattle and now feeling the pinch of the cost of living.

A Fine "Potato Shower."

The country editor is favored of fortune everywhere—same in Kansas as in Georgia—and here's the evidence:

"The editor is the grateful beneficiary of a potato shower, which event happened, transpired and took place yesterday and the day before. In Paradise at Last.

George Bailey, of The Houston Post, thinks he deserves this foretaste of Paradise. He writes:

"We are starting breakfast with cantaloupes, adorning dinner with watermelons and topping the July supper with Elbertas and crowder. This affords strong circumstantial evidence that the Lord reserves His choicest gifts for those who love righteousness and vote the ticket without a grimace or scratch."

The Unwelcome.

"The parson announced yesterday," says The Whitsett Courier, "that he was 'going to run the devil out of town.' That's good news in such hot weather, but the devil will pitch his tent in the next town, and we'll get the ill will of all the citizens for unloading him on them. So what's the use?"

THE POSSIBILITIES OF CRIMSON CLOVER

Editor Constitution: As you are having some discussion of farm conditions, I want to submit for your consideration a concrete idea which, I believe, has wonderful possibilities for good in Georgia agriculture.

I have been planting crimson clover several years, with results like this: Land that three years ago produced half bale of cotton per acre will easily make a bale and more now. I cut something like a ton of clover hay per acre in April and it is planted now to cotton. The land has been in cotton every year. Clover is harrowed in the growing cotton during September or October at an expense of about $1.50. By April 15 it is ready to mow or turn under, and the land planted to cotton again. It is a fine grazing crop or a splendid hay. Its fertilizer value is high, being rich in nitrogen. Now, a crop grown in the winter, when the land is usually idle and actually losing in fertility, will do these things. Would be a boon to many an unprofitable acre in Georgia. Any agriculturist like Mr. Hastings or Mr. Soule will tell you that crimson clover will build up and very rapidly. The only difficulty is getting it to grow successfully, and there is needed a publicity campaign to inform people in regard to inoculation, limit, etc., as many people know little of the plant and how to grow it.

I have found this plan of growing clover and cotton on the same land intensely practical and profitable. The Elberton Air-Line aided me in a publicity campaign and there has developed a great interest in it in Elberton. Now, I want to have a clover club with already over 100 names for a prize contest acre of cotton and corn next year planted on land to be sown to clover next fall.

The real trouble with Georgia is a system of farming which depletes the soil and we are cultivating too many acres from which there is no possible profit, and I believe that our true remedy is along the lines of increased production and better care of our lands. Mr. Editor, I know the power of your journal, and being so thoroughly confident of the benefits that would accrue from the general growth of crimson clover, I would like for you to study out this proposition, and if you find it good, boost it.

I have been trying to get people here interested in clover, have talked with many farmers and judging by the sentiment here the time is ripe for the adoption of better farming methods.

I take the liberty to refer you to some recent articles in The Country Gentleman, telling what crimson clover has done for sections of Delaware in growing clover hay and following with corn.

O. E. TATE.

Elberton, Ga., July 8, 1913.

The Pension Train.

Editor Constitution: Notice in your paper today a good woman makes appeal to the legislature that the pensions of confederate veterans and their widows be increased from $60 to $100 per year.

Have the people of Georgia ever thought seriously about the source from whence this pension money comes? What per cent of those receiving pensions are really in need, or, stated differently, how many men in Georgia receive pensions who are not entitled to the same? And again, is it legal and right to tax the children and grandchildren of dead confederate soldiers who fought, bled, died and lost everything practically they possessed during and after the four years' war?

Suppose some confederate veteran who does not accept a pension should let a tax fi. fa. be issued against him, and plead that he owes nothing, how soon collection would be made? Yet there are those now, a legal way by which the tax payers of Georgia can be made to pay over a million dollars a year to confederate veterans? So true, sensible veteran in Georgia should not be allowed to suffer for the necessities of life, and sentiment has provided and maintains a home open to every such veteran in the state.

Would it be a better plan in the future for the legislature to arrange for each county to pay its own veterans? If counties should pay their veterans direct they would see to it most carefully that those who have not been reduced to want are not entitled to and worthy thereof. As the limit in Georgia has already been reached to raise money for any and all purposes by taxation, isn't it about time the people stop and consider?

We suggest that the legislature calmly investigate how much Georgia is legally due to her soldiers of 1861-5, and if they will make a correct statement, those who have not been receiving pensions will be appreciative and fully satisfied, and nothing further will ever be said about more money for pensions.

WILL R. REED.

Clayton County, Georgia, July 7, 1913.

Restricted Bills of Lading.

Editor Constitution: In your issue of July 7, Congressman Adamson criticises the Georgia Bankers' association for its distribution of a circular on the subject of restricted bills of lading. This is a matter of greatest importance to farmers, ginners, oil mills, cotton exporters, compress companies, banks and buyers of foreign exchange based on cotton bills of lading. Further protest against these restrictions will be voiced at a mass meeting of the various interests affected. The meeting will be held at the Piedmont hotel, Atlanta, July 10.

The particular part of our circular which drew the criticism of Congressman Adamson was this:

"These notations will destroy the negotiability of these cotton bills of lading insofar as the banks are concerned and it will become impossible for the exporter or the buyer to draw through New York or other financial centers for the value of the cotton, when the bill of lading accompanying same bears any of the above enumerated notations or exceptions."

Our statement in this statement consists first of the opinions of the leading foreign exchange dealers included in our membership, whose ideas are supported by the leading foreign exchange experts of the United States and the buyer to draw through New York

A. P. Coles, vice president Central Bank and Trust Corporation, Atlanta: "My arguments before the steamship agents show best how thoroughly I believe that the proposed restrictions would vitiate interior bills of lading, insofar as they enter into foreign exchange."

GET CLOSE.

By George Matthew Adams.

Many a General, since Time got to going, has bitterly learned the futility of fighting a battle at long range. Also, many a Business man has learned to his sorrow, the disaster back of a distant relationship between himself and his customers.

Step a Step Closer.

Individual supremacy and power result from contact. Whether or not it is a Battle of Arms, a Battle in Business, or a Battle with your own Self. And the Closer you get to your Opponent the surer you are of Victory.

Step a Step Closer.

Another thing to remember—Imagination is a great factor in Success, and the Closer you are to your work or your Opposition, the bigger will be your Vision, the more will you See, and the clearer will loom the real Purpose back of each effort that you make in life.

Step a Step Closer.

Close quartered you are able to detect defects, and correct them. Close centered there is no lost motion, but power in every stroke. If you will but apply the suggested thoughts back of this little talk, to your work today, larger growth is sure. You will be a bigger man or woman.

The World's Mysteries

IS "HAMLET" THE STORY OF MARY, QUEEN OF SCOTS?

About none of Shakespeare's plays is there more interest and more mysteries as to the origin of the story than is attached to "Hamlet." Where did Shakespeare get his ideas for the writing of this play? Was it founded on historical facts, with the names of the persons given as the actual participants in the tragedy, or was the locale placed in Denmark to veil its true significance?

"Hamlet" was written not many years from the date when that strange story of Mary Queen of Scots' life and death was the common talk all over the two kingdoms. Mary's husband, Darnley, like the husband of Gertrude, came to a sudden and mysterious death. Within a few months afterwards Mary, like Gertrude, married the murderer of her husband. The Queen of Scots was by almost all England, certainly by Queen Elizabeth, held to be an accomplice of Bothwell's in executing that great crime. So the player Queen in "Hamlet" says significantly while protesting her own constancy:

"None wed the second but who killed the first."

Then the character popularly ascribed to the Queen of Scots at the time, as exhibited in the famous "casket letters," is the character plainly hinted of Gertrude in Hamlet's remonstrances to his mother and in his first soliloquy. Next compare the ghost's revelations to Hamlet with these statements from Robertson's "History of Scotland:

"The letters contained only imperfect hints and obscure intimations with respect to the murder. Let this be granted. As a leading step, however, to the murder of the confederates accused the queen of criminal intercourse with Bothwell. That being once established, the imperfect, obscure hints in the letters as to the murder become perfect, clear and luminous facts—adultery is a proof of the murder; it is the key to unfold, to explain the imperfect hints, and what from the letters taken 'per se' were only presumptions, now become clear proof against her as to the murder."

Again, Robertson tells his readers in a note: "Buchanan and Knox were positive that the king—Darnley—had been poisoned. They mention the black and putrid pustules which broke out all over his body. So the ghost says to Hamlet:

"And a most instant tatter barked about,
Most lazar-like, with vile and loathsome crust
All my smooth body."

Buchanan further states that prodigies accompanied Darnley's murder. A gentleman, lying sick of a fever, had a preternatural intimation of the event at the time of its occurrence; and an apparition appeared to three friends of the Earl of Athol, waked them out of their sleep, and informed them of the murder. All this falls in with the first scenes of "Hamlet." The description of the "Ghost's" armor and kingly appearance as, clad in complete steel, he stalks across the platform is, almost to a phrase, the description given by contemporaries of Darnley's aspect and bearing.

Darnley was of immense stature, being nearly 7 feet in height, "of a fair and warlike form, and wore a remarkable suit of armor. September 3, 1565, Randolph wrote to Cecil: "The queen weareth a pistol charged when in the field, and of late her troops her husband only hath gilt armor." This is the very "fair and warlike form," in which "the majesty of buried Denmark did sometime march," depicted in the play.

To the like parallel effect is the fine description of the dead king's personal appearance in life given by Hamlet in the closet scene. Lastly, the scenery of the play, curiously enough, suits Holyrood house and Edinburgh much more closely than the sandy ridges of Elsinore. Thus that lovely picture:

"The morn in russet mantle clad,
Walks o'er the dew of yon' high eastern hill."

This fits exactly the sunrise at Arthur's Seat, as seen from Holyrood; but there is no high hill on any side of the old castle of Elsinore. So, again, the "dreadful summit of the cliff which beetles o'er his base, and looks so many fathoms down," fits Salisbury Crags, but not Elsinore. Other equally, or still more minute indications may be gathered from the play to almost convince one that in writing it Shakespeare had the tragical history of the Queen of Scots full in mind, and not "Hamlet, the Dane."

A Story of the Moment

By WALT MASON,
The Famous Prose Poet

THE HAPPY HERMIT.

"It's hard to get to sleep in town, but in the sylvan wild a man may lay his burdens down and slumber like a child," remarked the wild man of the woods, as he emerged from his cave. "Here I've been sound asleep for twelve hours and wasn't disturbed once. The mockingbirds and nightingales sing sweet lullabys to the dweller in the sylvan solitudes, but in the busy haunts a man has to fight for every ounce of sleep he gets.

"As a result my natural sleep becomes impossible, and he has to indulge in the made-in-Germany variety. He has to go to the drugstore and purchase his rest in the form of opium. He gets into the habit of taking coal tar products, and the first thing his afflicted relatives know they see him frothing at the mouth and trying to climb trees head downward, which convinces them that he is insane, and they reluctantly box him up and ship him to the asylum.

"How beautiful is sleep as the poet remarked. Unless you sleep like a policeman nothing else counts. You may have vassals and serfs by your side, and gems and precious stones, and money in the bank, but if you don't sleep everything is junk. When I lived in a town my residence faced a street that was paved with brick, and I occupied the front room. The town was full of giddy young men, who insisted upon decorating things with red paint when they should have been doing something useful. These young men never went home until 1 or 2 o'clock in the morning, and they considered it a religious duty to stop under my window and sing 'Three Fishers Went Sailing,' or some other pathetic ballad.

"I yield to no man in my appreciation of good music, but I always insisted that moving ballads should not be sung after midnight. Time and again I expostulated with those merry young men, and at last I took to throwing brick-a-brac at them, and they threw bricks into my bedroom window, and it was almost impossible to sleep under such conditions. One night I heard them coming in the distance, singin' 'Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep.' That splendid song always was a favorite of mine, but I didn't feel in the mood to listen to it that night, so, when I saw a policeman standing under a lamp post across the street, I hastily donned a few garments and rushed across and asked him for his protection. He eyed me critically and said I was drunk, and would have to go to the station with him. He wouldn't listen to any explanations or statistics. He called my attention to the fact that my trousers were on rear and foremost, and he held, with some show of logic, that no law abiding citizen would go scampering abroad in such a condition.

"This was before our town possessed a patrol wagon, and policemen took their victims to headquarters on foot. This peeler twisted his hand into my ruffled and hustled me along in front of him, and whenever I tried to convince him that I was an honest taxpayer he hit me over the head with his club, which did not help upholstered. I was locked into a loathsome dungeon, and, by a singular coincidence, the gentleman who occupied the next cell was largely musical, and for hours together he sang 'Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep,' the very song from which I had tried to escape.

"That was but one of many painful incidents that I recall. Sometimes, after the nightly serenade, I'd drop into a troubled sleep, but it never lasted long.

"The milkman who sold his adulterated river water in our neighborhood always came along about an hour before daylight. His wagon was covered with gongs, and he had a big spirited horse with eighteen or twenty legs, and when that outfit came rattling along the brick pavement everybody within two miles reared up in bed and swore in as many languages as possible.

"When morning finally came and I arose from my couch I felt as though I had been celebrating the Fourth of July and the Chinese New Year together, and my sufferings were shared by every human being in the busy haunts. Which is why I am bold to maintain that the forest primeval is the only fit dwelling place for a sane man who likes to get a little comfort out of his pilgrimage."

Fewer Laws, Better Officers.

(From The Dawson News.)

Several bills aimed at the concealed pistol have appeared in the legislature. There are already enough laws on the subject. What is needed is fewer laws and more enforcement.

FALL RIVER, MASS.

By GEORGE FITCH,
Author of "At Good Old Siwash"

(Copyright, 1913, for The Constitution.)

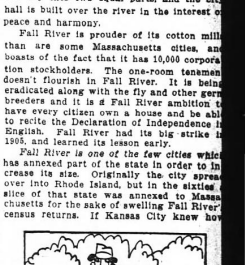
Fall River, Mass., is one of the largest foreign cities in the United States. It is situated in the southern corner of Massachusetts, at the end of the Fall River boat line, and has 120,000 people, of whom 100,000 know some other language beside English.

Fall River began business over 100 years ago as a yankee town, and was organized because it was a shame to let Fall River go to waste. The river is 2 miles long and falls 127 feet in that distance, so by sticking mill wheels into it, the Fall River people got enough power to run large numbers of cotton factories. Fall River is now lined on each side with cotton factories, but Fall River doesn't run the factories any more. The job has outgrown it.

Fall River city straggles off over the hills back of the factories and looks like a nice New England town in spots. It has 20,000 French Canadian citizens, 12,000 English, 7,500 Irish and enough Turks, Servians, Bulgarians and Greeks to start a Balkan war or every street corner on Saturday night. It also has a number of fine old yankees in good state of preservation. The river divides the city into two equal parts, and the city hall is built over the river in the interest of peace and harmony.

Fall River is prouder of its cotton mills than are some Massachusetts cities, and boasts of the fact that it has 10,000 corporation stockholders. The poor room tenement doesn't flourish in Fall River. It is being eradicated along with the fly and other germ breeders and it is a Fall River ambition to have every citizen own a house and be able to recite the Declaration of Independence in English. Fall River had its big strike in 1905, and learned its lesson early.

Fall River is one of the few cities which has annexed part of the state in order to increase its size. Originally the city spread over into Rhode Island, but in the sixties a slice of that state was annexed to Massachusetts for the sake of swelling Fall River's census returns. If Kansas City knew how



"It also has a number of fine old Yankees," this trick was done she would now have 350,000 inhabitants, while Kansas City, Kansas, would have saloons.

Fall River has produced few great men, but is turning out ordinary citizens with great industry. Its birth rate is the highest in the country, and its naturalization courts work nights before elections.

Levees Would Aid Farms.

Editor Constitution: I see in Thursday's Constitution that Mr. Tribble is going to introduce a bill for an appropriation to reclaim swamp lands. This is a bill that every Georgian ought to be interested in, as there are thousands and thousands of acres of this land in Georgia, on which a very small sum expended on levees and drainage would rival the Valley of the Nile in productiveness. There are thousands of acres on the Oconee river alone that would grow two crops a year, averaging 100 bushels of oats and 100 bushels of corn per acre, without fertilizers, as this soil is an alluvial sandy loam of a very good depth. These lands are now practically waste lands, not even available for pasturage. These rich lands could be made available by a levee from 3 to 10 feet in height.

This levee proposition cannot very well be carried out by private individuals, as the land belongs to so many people. But if the government will take a hand in it, then it would be easy to get the co-operation of the farmer.

MARY PHAGAN'S PAY ENVELOPE IS FOUND

Discovery Made by Detectives Weeks Ago, But Is Just Announced.

The discovery of the pay envelope given Mary Phagan on the day of her murder, is believed by detectives to furnish the missing link in the chain of circumstancial evidence they declare they have forged.

The envelope was found by Detectives Harry Scott and John Black. It is now in possession of the solicitor general. It was discovered on the first floor of the plant building behind a radiator that is situated in immediate vicinity to the spot at which James Conye, the negro sweeper, says he sat in waiting for his superintendent's summons.

The production of the envelope as evidence will be a strong point in behalf of Frank's defense, according to his friends, however. It is rumored that his counsel is already preparing to use it as a basis of one of their major attacks upon the negro's story.

The envelope was found three weeks after the discovery of the girl's body. It was not made public, however, until Wednesday.

Solicitor Hugh M. Dorsey won his point Wednesday and will keep Newt Lee, the negro night watchman, in the tower until the trial of Leo M. Frank for the murder of Mary Phagan is held on July 28. Attorneys Grahant and Chappell, for Lee, had secured an order directing that the sheriff show cause why he should hold their client, but the solicitor held a conference with the negro's lawyers shortly before the hearing and by mutual consent the affair was indefinitely postponed.

ENTHUSIASM IS SHOWN IN GOOD ROADS CAUSE

Convict Labor for Construction of Public Highways Meets With Favor.

A great deal of enthusiasm was shown in the meeting of the penitentiary committee Wednesday over the good roads movement in Georgia, when the house bill of Representative Slater, of Bryan, for the use of convict labor for the construction of a public highway from Savannah to the Florida line at the St. Mary's river in Camden county was considered. The committee recommended that the bill do pass the house.

This road will be in the neighborhood of 100 miles long, and is designed to be a part of the national highways system.

Speeches were made by Representative Slater, Representative Wohlwender, of Muscogee, and others advocating the measure and showing the great enhancement in the realty values and other benefits that arise from good roads.

ATLANTA'S OLDEST SAVINGS BANK

Pays Interest From July 1st on All Moneys Deposited by July 10th.

It is estimated that $105,000 was paid by the banks of Atlanta on interest on Savings Accounts for the past six months. What amount did you get? Idle money is unprofitable. Make every dollar count for something.

The Georgia Savings Bank & Trust Company will pay interest at the rate of 4 per cent per annum from July 1 on all amounts deposited on or before July 10. All depositors of this, the Oldest Savings Bank in Atlanta, are requested to bring their pass books to the bank to have the July interest posted.

If you have not a Savings Account, start one with them. It only takes $1 to get a pass book.

Their officers and directors are: George M. Brown, President; John W. Grant, Vice President; Joseph E. Boston, Sec. and Treas.; Joseph A. McCord, Fred R. Law, John L. Pye, Elijah A. Brown and Arnold Broyles.—(Adv.)

Buy a Diamond on Deferred Payments

Our attractive deferred payment plans are open to reliable people anywhere.

You can get a diamond by paying only one-fifth cash. The balance, plus 6 per cent simple interest, can be distributed over ten months.

For instance: Say you wish a stone worth $125. You pay $25 down, which leaves a deferred balance of $100. Six per cent on this for ten months amounts to only $2.75. There would be one payment 30 days from date of sale of $10.50, and nine equal monthly payments of $10.25 each.

You will see that these payments include the interest charge, which is just enough to cover the cost of the extra bookkeeping involved.

It would not be fair to the cash buyer to sell on long terms at cash prices, and good business men appreciate our telling them just what the difference costs.

FOUR STATE SENATORS GIVE HALL TO WOMEN

Reference to Committee Results in Unanimous Decision in Suffragists' Favor.

After wrangling over the subject of woman suffrage in the state senate during the whole morning and defeating the requests of the ladies at every turn, the committee on halls and rooms of the senate met immediately after the adjournment of that body and brought to nothing all the energy of the solons debating pro and con on the question by deciding unanimously that the Georgia State Suffrage association should be allowed the use of its assembly room for the nights of July 9-10.

Immediately after declining the ladies' invitation to attend their annual meeting, after refusing for the second time to allow the ladies the use of the senate room, after repeatedly placing their stamp of disapproval upon woman suffrage in any form the anti-woman suffrage members of the senate annulled all their victories of the morning by stepping into a trap skilfully laid by the suffragist supporters.

Over an hour had been expended in laudatory and deprecatory remarks upon the merits of equal suffrage when Senator M. C. Tarver, apparently tired of the incessant quibbling, moved that all matters pertaining to the privilege of the use of the senate chamber should be turned over to the committee on halls and rooms, which committee should have absolute power in granting the use of the chamber. The motion was passed unanimously, the anti-suffragists thinking their victory complete and the suffragists realizing their inability to further their ends on the floor.

The committee on halls and rooms consists of four members. Three of these members, who were present Wednesday, favored the request in any form but three seconds for the committee to give the suffrage association the rights of the senate floor for the nights of July 9-10, and now instead of being in a quandary for a place to hold their meeting the suffragists are confronted with the choice of the house or the senate halls, the house having unanimously granted the ladies the use of their meeting place Wednesday morning.

The debate was started by an invitation to the senators from the suffragists to attend the convention sessions. Senator J. N. Waite moved to accept, but while the vote stood 6 to 5 in favor of acceptance, Senator B. S. Miller moved to table the motion before the roll call was completed. Senator Miller moved to have his own motion withdrawn, and after a hot fight it was withdrawn by a vote of 17 to 16.

Upon the withdrawal of Senator Miller's motion, Senator Stark made the motion that the invitation be laid on the table and his motion was carried by a 20 to 18 vote.

Then Senator W. D. McNeil introduced a resolution to allow the ladies the use of the chamber for the nights requested. This resolution was defeated by a vote of 22 to 18. It was then that Senator Tarver introduced his apparently innocuous resolution which resulted so successfully for the ladies.

Bills Favorably Reported.

Bills reported favorably Wednesday by the committee on education:

A bill to require the reading of the Bible upon opening of the public schools of the state.

A bill to create a system of public schools for Oglethorpe county.

The compulsory education bill and the bill introducing a system of kindergartens in the public schools have been set for a hearing at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon, July 17. A bill to create the Twelfth District School of Agriculture and Mechanical Arts was postponed until next week.

Senator W. J. Rush's bill seeking to introduce the teaching of agriculture in all the public schools of the state in towns of less than 5,000 population was thoroughly discussed and the committee finally resolved to invite President Andrew M. Soule, of the State College of Agriculture to address it on the subject an dto suggest any changes in the proposed measure.

The committee on congressional and legislative reapportionmetn reported favorably upon Senator's Hule's bill taking Clayton county from the sixth congressional district and placing it back into the fifth.

New Bills.

Bills introduced in senate Wednesday:

By Smith of the Ninth—To create Hansell county.

By Dickey of the Twenty-third—To prescribe duties of judges of city courts.

By Pope of the Forty-fourth and Oliff of the Fourth—To make term of county officers four years.

By Searcy of the Twenty-sixth—To make it unlawful for officers to deliver prisoner into hands of person not officer of law.

PROF. SYKES ENGAGED BY SOUTHERN RAILWAY

Professor H. P. Lykes, who for the past three years has been in charge of the animal husbandry department of the Georgia experiment station, has been appointed assistant dairy and poultry agent by the Southern railway and will have headquarters in Atlanta, devoting his entire time to the lines of the Southern railway in Georgia, the Georgia Southern and Florida railway, the Augusta Southern railway and the Tallulah Falls railway.

Professor Lykes is a native of South Carolina and a graduate of Clemson college in the class of 1907. He spent a year with the dairy division of the United States department of agriculture, working in Georgia and Alabama, after which he took a year's postgraduate course in dairying and animal husbandry at Carnell university and was connected with the South Carolina experiment station for a year before going with the Georgia station.

Professor Lykes is splendidly qualified to help the farmers of Georgia i nsolving dairy problems. His services will be at their dispotal without any charge.

ATLANTA'S GRECIAN CONSUL PROTESTS BULGAR MASSACRES

Editor Constitution.: The war now raging in the Balkans between the former allies has brought forth two distinct elements fighting for their mutual preponderanse in the terror-stricken Macedonia, the Greek element on one side and the Bulgarian on the other.

So far both claim to be victorious. So they are, but in a very different way. The following cables show it plainly:

"ATROCITIES BY BULGARS.

"Salonki, July 8.—Father Michel, superior of the French Catholic missions at Kilkish, confirms reports of massacres committed in that district by Bulgarian irregulars. In one instance they burned to death 700 men belonging to Kukurs by imprisoning them in a mosque under which they exploded bombs, setting the building on fire. They had previously assembled the victims' wives and children to witness the spectacle.

"Even more terrible scenes were enacted at Kilkish, Plantita and Razpovo, women also being burned to death.

"Father Michel asserts that among the perpetrators responsible for these atrocities were business and professional men and students from Sofia."

Another Source.

"Special Dispatch to The Herald via Commercial Cable Company's system.—Salonica, Monday.—Shocking stories are coming to hand of atrocities perpetrated by Bulgarian troops on helpless Greek and Turkish inhabitants of villages evacuated by the troops.

"Twenty-seven hundred refugees, Greeks and Turks, reached Seres today. The poor persons are absolutely destitute. Many are orphans, their parents massacred by Bulgarians.

"Altogether, 19,000 refugees have been gathered from the district around Nigrita and placed in camps in the Peninsula of Chalcidice.

"Meanwhile the Greek army is victorious all along the line. Nigrita, Lithikh and Labana have all been captured."

"Athens, Monday.—(Official cable to Greek Legation, Atlanta.)—According to the official Newspaper, Atlantis, King Constantine of Greece, on the staff majesty, the Bulgarian wounded soldiery are given the preference by the Greek Red Cross.

"The Bulgarian army is retreating all along the line before the victorious advances of the Greeks."

So the victory of Bulgarian hordes consists only in burning villages and killing by the most horrible means the innocent inhabitants. Why atrocious means the innocent inhabitants. Why don't they fight like men in a noble way? Or what crime innocent women and children, both Turkish and Greek, are accused for getting such a terrible death?

So the ugly report that were circulated during the war against Turkey must be true. Turkish prisoners and the wounded soldiers were put to an ignominious death by the brave protegee of Vienna, for they were a burden on their hands.

"How long this state of affairs will be allowed to continue? Is it not time for this Christian and formidably strong nation to raise a voice and put an end to the massacres? I think that it is my duty to call your attention and that of the Christian churches of America. I have had much faith in the real freedom of life and conscience prevailing in this great country, which is my adopted country, and the country of my children, but I confess that at this time the true face is doubt for a minute that the true face of the Bulgarians and the thousands of Greeks, Turkish and Serbian innocent families are brought before the public opinion all Americans will raise a voice not only of sympathy, but of indignity and will see that the massacres are stopped, as they are a disgrace. Yours very truly,

DEMITRI VAFIADI,
Consul of Greece.

FIFTH GEORGIA BOYS ARRIVE AT ST. SIMONS

Governor and Ex-Governor to Be Guests of Regiment on Saturday and Sunday.

By Robert Quin, Special Correspondent.

St. Simons Island, Ga., July 9.—(Special.)—Away from the noise and heat of the city, the boys of the Fifth regiment from Atlanta are encamped tonight on St. Simons island in a cool grove within a few hundred yards of the beach and have settled down for their ten days' stay.

Owing to the late arrival of the second troop train, which came into Brunswick at 10 o'clock, all of the regiment was not on the camp ground until noon and the entire afternoon was spent in pitching tents.

The trip from Atlanta proved a pleasant one and the men are highly enthusiastic and enjoying the camp thoroughly. The real pleasure will commence Thursday, when the men will be at leave to go in the surf or loaf around the island, as they please.

There will be dancing practically every night. A number of parties from Brunswick having arranged to come over.

A large number of the married officers have their wives and families here, quarters being provided for them at the hotels.

On Saturday and Sunday the regiment will have as its guests Governor John M. Slaton, ex-Governor Joseph M. Brown, as well as various members of the governor's staff. Brigadier General R. K. Evans and Colonel Barth, U. S. A. A special committee from the Brunswick board of trade and from the mayor and city council has been appointed to meet the governor's party at the depot and escort them to the St. Simons boat. The party will remain on the island Saturday and Sunday and will inspect the regiment. The governor and ex-governor have announced their intention of enjoying camp life while on the island, and they will sleep in regiment tents, take their meals with the officers and enjoy camp life generally. The party will return to Brunswick Sunday afternoon and leave that night for Atlanta.

LAST MEETING SUNDAY FOR COLORED Y. M. C. A.

During the past month the young men of the colored branch of the Y. M. C. A. of this city have been waging a campaign known as "The $1 a Man," which has for its object the reaching of a large number of persons who have not as yet contributed to the erection of the new building. The winding up meeting will be held at Big Bethel A. M. E. church Sunday at 3 o'clock. Several able speakers have promised to address this meeting, among them are Philip Weltner, Rev. C. Mac Manning, W. Woods White and Dr. C. M. Tanner.

The following persons have paid in full what they promised within the past few days: T. E. Gibson, $10; Katie Starks, $10; Joe Wright, $5; A. D. Hutchins, $5; R. L. Morrison, $5; R. H. Hardeman, $5; James Greenberry, $5; Miss O. A. Taylor, $10; J. W. Bugg, $25; R. M. Manning, $5; Hazer Nallar, $4; Leroy Amos, $4; Miss Edith Coats, $2; Mrs. Rosa Love, $5; a friend, $100.

WAYWARD GIRLS' HOME FAVORED BY COMMITTEE

Bill Carries $75,000 Appropriation, But Location May Reduce Amount.

The house bill of Representatives Jones, of Coweta, and Mills, of Butts, to establish a state home for wayward girls was unanimously recommended for passage by the penitentiary committee Wednesday afternoon and will be so reported back to the house this morning.

The bill carries with it an appropriation of about $75,000, which condition, in view of the depleted financial condition of the state, brought about considerable argument before the committee. They believe, however, that an institution is greatly needed by the state and that it should make an effort to establish it as early as possible.

The location, while Milledgeville was discussed, is not designated in the bill. In the selection of a location the members of the committee see hope of reducing the appropriation necessary to build and establish the home. The local counties, it is understood, would be willing to donate the necessary land for the site, which would cut a large slice from the appropriation, and would also be willing to give a considerable donation besides.

MANUFACTURERS' SHOW BUILDING TO BE LEASED

The committee on the permanent manufacturers' exhibit of the chamber of commerce held their first meeting in the chamber yesterday and discussed plans for the exhibit. Several propositions were made them, one an offer to lease a building on long terms, another to buy and a third to lease with privilege of buying at a later date.

While no direct information was given out, it is understood that the committee favors leasing with the option of buying.

A subcommittee consisting of the following members of the committee was appointed to go thoroughly into the matter within the next few days: Brooks Morgan, chairman; V. H. Kriegshaber, Bolling Jones, J. K. Orr.

A report will be made at an early date on the matter by this subcommittee.

"LIARS" OF WAYCROSS TO HOLD CONVENTION

Waycross, Ga., July 9.—(Special.)—Arrangements were made here today for the holding of a liars' and yarn telling convention by a club in Waycross tomorrow night. Cash prizes will be given those who put over the best yarns. No one who has any reputation for truth telling whatever will be admitted. Judges have been selected from the biggest yarnsters of this section.

DR. G. S. TIGNER DIES BY HIS OWN HAND

Ill Health Is Given as the Cause of His Self-Destruction.

Dr. George S. Tigner, one of the most widely-known dentists in Atlanta and a resident of this city for years, committed suicide early Wednesday morning by cutting his throat in the bathroom of his apartments in the Imperial hotel.

The body was removed to Patterson's undertaking establishment, where an inquest was held at 10 o'clock. At 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon brief funeral services were held in Trinity Methodist church. Rev. John B. Robins officiating. Later the body was removed to White Sulphur Springs, Dr. Tigner's former home.

Ill health is assigned as the cause. For months Dr. Tigner had been suffering acutely. His mind is believed to have been temporarily deranged by constant suffering. Te deed was committed some time after daybreak. Without waking his wife or notifying anyone, he arose from bed, after a night that had probably been without sleep, and went into the bathroom.

When Mrs. Tigner awoke later she discovered the body of her husband lying across the floor, a wide gash in his throat. The alarm was given to hotel officials. Dr. Tigner had been dead for some time.

The dead physician held one of the most enviable reputations in local medical circles. He once filled a chair in the Atlanta Dental college, was an active church member and belonged to numerous social and fraternal organizations.

He was a son of Benson Forbush Tigner and was born at White Sulphur Springs, Ga., a small settlement near Gainesville, at the foothills of the Blue Ridge. He was 46 years old. Following the completion of a literary career at Emory college, from which he was graduated in 1888, he turned to medicine, both of his grandfathers having been doctors of medicine.

He had held a number of important positions, among them being that of dental surgeon at Wesley Memorial hospital, Atlanta; professor of orthodontia at the Southern Dental college. He also was a trustee of Grady hospital during 1912 and was an ex-president of the Georgia Dental societies.

He had no children. His wife, Miss Louise Mansfield Singer, he married in 1898 at her home in Atlanta. Surviving him are his wife, his father, three brothers, Frank C., of Columbus; Dr. Ed A. Tigner, of Milledgeville, and J. Hope Tigner, of Atlanta, and three sisters, Mrs. N. B. Boddie, of Chipley, Ga., and Misses Carrie and Julia Tigner, of White Sulphur Springs.

Evans-Walker.

A quiet, pretty wedding last night was that of Miss Hester Evans and Mr. C. G. Walker, of Toledo, O., which took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. R. Evans, on Highland avenue.

There was present a small company of friends, and the ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. O'Kelley.

The bride was charming in a two-toned crepe de chine, shading from pink to gray. It was draped with pink chiffon, and her hat was in the same colors.

Her mother, was gowned in blue silk and chiffon.

The house had attractive decorations in ferns and pink roses, and refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker went to Asheville, Toxaway, Toledo and the Great Lakes on their wedding trip, and returning they will make their home at 545 Highland avenue.

To Miss Eula Jackson.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Maddox entertained at a dinner dance last night at their beautiful home, "Woodhaven," in compliment to their niece, Miss Eula Jackson. The dinner was served on the terrace, under lights showing under pink shades and the table was a poem in summer flowers blending the shades of rose color. All the appointments reflected that color, and the guests leaving the table were met with the beautiful scenes that come only with the moonlight nights at "Woodhaven."

After dinner dancing was enjoyed in the hallway and drawing room, where summer flowers decorated everywhere.

Mrs. Maddox was charming in a pink and blue chiffon gown trimmed in French roses. Miss Jackson was lovely in a dancing gown of pale blue chiffon and lace.

To Miss Lewis.

Mrs. Chris A. Rauschenberg gave an enjoyable "42" party yesterday in compliment to Miss Laurette Lewis.

Flowering plants and vases of roses decorated the house, and the prizes were handkerchiefs. The guest of honor was presented a piece of silver.

Mrs. Rauschenberg was becomingly gowned in blue crepe de chine draped with shadow lace.

To Mr. Beach.

Last night the friends of Mr. Charles A. Beach gave a moonlight picnic in his honor at Grant park. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Hooke, Mrs. A. J. Brice, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Reaves, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Humler, Miss Effie Short, Miss Alfreda Butcher, Mrs. S. C. Redd, Miss Louise Reeves, Mr. Charles A. Beach, Mr. Fred W. Walker.

Cofer-Skinner.

Mrs. J. M. Cofer announces the marriage of her daughter, Janie Brown, to Mr. Francis Childes Skinner, Wednesday, July 9, Dr. John Hammond, of Augusta, officiating, at the residence of the bride's mother.

The ceremony was witnessed by an assemblage of relatives and friends. Miss Ruth Cofer was maid of honor, and Miss Jennie Sue Bell, the bridesmaid. Frederick Stewart, Jr., was the ring bearer, and Miss Virginia Randall, the flower girl.

The bride's gown was of white crepe de chine draped in lace and chiffon, and the tulle veil was caught to her hair with a chaplet of orange blossoms. She carried bride roses and lilies. The maid of honor and bridesmaid were all white and carried pink flowers.

Refreshments were served, and the house was beautifully decorated in summer flowers, pink the color prevailing.

The bride is a lovable and talented young woman with many friends, while the groom is a successful young business man. After a trip north they will make their home in Atlanta.

Week-End Party.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Ellis, Jr., will give a week-end house party at their summer home at Tallulah for their daughter, Miss Adgate Ellis. There will be seventeen guests.

To Mrs. Pierson.

Mrs. R. E. L. Tolbert's bridge party yesterday was an enjoyable event in compliment to Mrs. Clifford Pierson, a June bride.

The game was played in the reception rooms and on the porch, which were attractive decoration in growing plants and sweetpeas, and pink and white were the colors prevailing in effective detail. The prizes were a fruit basket, a cut glass bonbon dish and a piece of hand-painted china.

Mrs. F. B. Boseman and Misses Laura and Ina Tolbert assisted in entertaining.

Receiving Party.

Miss Margaret Fraser's tea on Saturday will be a pretty compliment to Miss Dodo White's guests, Miss Helen Dunn, of Lake Providence, La.; Miss Elizabeth Stubbs, of Shreveport; Miss Sadie Mae Clark, Jr., Miss Alice Jones, of Birmingham.

Assisting in entertaining will be: Misses Katherine DuBose, Faith Johnson, Helen Rhoer, Harriet Haynes, Dorothy Traynham, Laura Sawtell, Van McKinnon, Wyckliffe Wurm and Ruth Paden.

Miss Rose to Entertain.

Miss Imogene Rose will entertain at luncheon at the Driving club Friday at 1:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Mitchell Entertains.

The Pioneer Women's society enjoyed one of the most delightful reunions of the year yesterday as the guests of Mrs. Eugene Mitchell. She entertained them in compliment to her mother, Mrs. John Stephens, and the occasion was most happy.

Mrs. Mitchell's handsome new home on Peachtree road had tasteful decoration in marigolds and zinias and in the dining room a daintily appointed tea table in yellow, its centerpiece a large basket of cannas.

There was an informal program of entertainment, which proved delightful. Those taking part were Miss Hortense Moran at the piano; Mrs. Annie Mays Dove, soprano and Mrs. Robert Blackburn, who gave dialect readings.

Bright and appropriate little talks were made by Mrs. Joseph Morgan, president of the society, and Mrs. W. L. Peel.

Mrs. Mitchell, receiving her guests, was becomingly gowned in white and yellow chiffon. Mrs. Stephens wore a black lace gown over cloth of gold.

Miss Margaret Mitchell, assisting her mother entertaining, wore white mull and lace.

MANY APPROPRIATIONS ASKED IN THE HOUSE

Considerable Pruning Will Be Necessary by the Appropriations Committee.

Appropriations running well over $1,500,000 were asked by bills introduced in the house Wednesday morning.

These included appropriations for the payment of pensions of 1914 and 1915, the general appropriation bill for the maintenance of the executive, judiciary and legislative departments of the state, a new pension of $600 per year for widows of ex-governors who are not worth exceeding $1,500; $35,000 for Georgia Tech; $20,000 for the state department of entomology, and $16,666 for the fifth congressional district agricultural school.

This would indicate that there will be opportunity for considerable pruning of the appropriation bills by the committee this year, and also on account of the early start that the re-elected governor Slaton start the appportionment sheet by on his desk ten days before the legislature adjourns can probably be complied with.

Will Go to Augusta.

The senate Wednesday morning notified the house that it had accepted the invitation to go to Augusta to visit the state medical college, but had amended the resolution to fix the date Saturday, July 19, instead of Wednesday, July 16, as agreed upon by the house, the invitation to fix the date Saturday, July 19, instead of Wednesday, July 16, as agreed upon by the house, the invitation to fix the date Saturday, July 19 dispensed upon. The house accepted this amendment.

Indication of favor of the McCrory, of Schley, school book publishing measure, was found Wednesday morning when it came up for second reading after second readings had already been refused on several other measures.

The deliberations of the house were well spiced by the presence of the suffragist, whose request for the use of the house chamber for convention purposes Wednesday and Thursday nights had been tabled for the last two days. The request was granted upon the resolution of Representative Smith, of Fulton, just before the house adjourned. The house was invited to attend the convention.

$50,000 SENT GEORGIA FROM FEDERAL FUNDS

The Money Will Be Used for State Colleges of Agriculture.

How would you like at a time when you were dead broke and were searching around in vain for a dollar to supply yourself with a meal ticket if somebody unexpectedly should send you a check for $50,000? It would be some surprise, wouldn't it?

Well, that is just about what happened to the poor old state of Georgia yesterday. The state treasurer received in the mail a letter from the treasurer of the United States containing the neat little sum of $50,000 as a present from Uncle Sam, who must have heard about what a stress Georgia was in and had determined to help her out.

The money is the gift, made by the acts of 1890 and 1907, to the state colleges of agriculture. Secretary Tillman addressed a letter to Chancellor Barrow for further instructions as to the disposition of the money.

MAXIMUM TEMPERATURE 88 DEGREES WEDNESDAY

In the west extremely high temperatures which reached as high as 106 degrees have existed within the past two days, while the cities of the eastern section of the country have been cooler than usual at this time of the year. Atlanta, while neither regarded as being of the east or the west, has been fortunate in that its temperatures have classed with those of the east for the past three days.

The maximum temperature reached on Wednesday was only 88 degrees, which was the same as Tuesday and which is forecasted to be the case again today. In the meantime thunder showers are due to appear again and possibly by this afternoon rain will be falling.

After the shower it will be cooler, and while the weather man never goes too far ahead in his prophecies, he freely admits that all appearances show that the latter part of this week will be even cooler than in the past three days.

Glenn Heads Cement Company.

At the annual meeting of the Piedmont Portland Cement company's stockholders' yesterday at the Kimball, Dr. G. R. Glenn was elected president with J. H. Davis secretary-treasurer. Reports show a decidedly satisfactory business since the last meeting of the stockholders.

Sister Learns of Tragedy.

Information was telephoned George Greenwood, head of the Theatrical agency, yesterday that a sister of Frank Bailey, the Atlanta vaudeville actor who shot and killed his wife and team-mate, Maizie Edwards, Sunday in Kansas City, had learned of the tragedy and was making arrangements to have the body brought here. The name of Bailey's sister, who married and moved to South Carolina two months ago, was not learned.

The new facial treatment

Try it tonight

To keep your skin so that you can always be proud of it, the following treatment is the most effective you could use—better even than massage.

Just before retiring, wash your face with plenty of Woodbury's Facial Soap and hot water. Rub it lather in. After this, rinse in warm, then in cold water. Then rub for five minutes until a lump of ice.

Woodbury's Facial Soap cleanses the pores and acts as a tonic to the skin. This treatment with it causes the skin to become more active, so that it clears, colors and nourishes itself. Continue it every night for a week or two and you can see the difference. Start tonight.

Woodbury's Facial Soap costs 25c a cake. No one hesitates at the price after one trial cake.

To Help Nature Shed a Bad Complexion

(From The Family Physician.)

Beauty devotees are enthusiastic over the beautifying qualities of mercolized wax. Perhaps nothing discovered within recent years accomplishes so much, so quickly, without harm, as that obtaining one indoors, and at such small expense. The principal reason for its wonderful merit is that it works in harmony with physiological laws. Instead of hiding or temporarily covering complexion defects, it removes them. The wax actually takes off the aged, faded, sallow, freckled, blotchy cuticle, gently, gradually, causing no inconvenience. It is Nature's way of renewing complexions. When the natural process is retarded because of deficient circulation or nerve tone, mercolized wax comes to the rescue and hastens the skin shedding. The new complexion which appears is a natural one, youthful, healthy, exquisitely beautiful. If you've never tried mercolized wax, get an ounce of it at the drug store, use at night like cold cream, washing it off in the morning.

Another natural beautifying treatment—for wrinkled skin—is to bathe the face in a lotion made by dissolving an ounce of saxolite in a half pint witch hazel. This is remarkably and instantaneously effective.—(adv.)

TWELVE APPOINTMENTS MADE BY GOVERNOR

Names Sent to the Senate Will Doubtless Be Confirmed by That Body Today.

The following appointments were transmitted to the senate yesterday morning by Governor Slaton for confirmation by that body:

W. L. Phillips to be judge of the city court of Louisville for two years, from November 1, 1913.

John R. Phillips, Esq., to be solicitor of the city court of Louisville for two years, from November 1, 1913.

J. E. Hays, of Montezuma, Ga., to be a trustee of the University of Georgia for eight years, from August 23, 1913, for the third congressional district.

J. J. Conner, of Cartersville, Ga., to be a trustee of the State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts for six years, from August 14, 1912.

The senate did not go into executive session Wednesday, but the appointments will in all probability be confirmed without opposition Thursday morning.

HARRIS LEAVES HOUSE TO ARGUE LAW CASE

Joseph J. Harris, member of the legislature from Washington county and one of the ablest representatives of the lower house, left his chair yesterday to argue a case before the court of appeals.

Mr. Harris, in addition to being a legislator, is city attorney for Sandersville. He appeared in the case of Dr. J. H. Evans v. City of Sandersville. A. W. Evans appearing for Dr. Evans. This is a case of considerable interest in Washington county on account of the fact that Dr. Evans was city physician of Sandersville in 1912, treated sixty cases of smallpox for the city and sued the municipality upon its refusal to pay him $1,400 for professional services. The city offered him $400.

Joe Harris won the case for the city in the lower court and Dr. Evans appealed.

Mr. Harris earned considerable reputation as manager for several campaigns for Congressman Hardwick in the latter's race for re-election three years ago.

TRACES OF POISON FOUND IN STOMACH

Exhumation of Joshua Crawford's Body by Dr. H. F. Harris Develops Startling Testimony.

That when he went to Carrollton in June and exhumed the body of the late Johns B. Crawford, he found unmistakable traces of morphine in the stomach, was the testimony of Dr. H. F. Harris, of the state board of health, yesterday morning when he was called before Auditor James N. Anderson in the famous Crawford will case.

The allegation had been made by the relatives of the deceased that his second wife, Mrs. Mary Belle Crawford, of 674 West Peachtree street, had caused Crawford's death through the use of drugs and had thus insured her and her daughter the wealth which he left.

Traces of neuconic acid and also of opium were found in the stomach, according to the physician, who declared that the traces could not be mistaken for anything else. Mrs. Crawford's attorney claim that the poisons found are but those used by the embalmers.

Mr. Crawford, whose death in 1909 left an estate now valued at $250,000, married his second wife in Florida where he boarded with her and her daughter. It was said at the time that the aged Atlantan married because he had at last found a woman whose cooking suited his stomach.

When he died a few months later it was said that indigestion had killed him and the story of the man who died from eating the food prepared by the woman he called the best cook in the world went the rounds of the whole country.

Certain of his relatives immediately brought suit for their share of the estate and declared that the second wife had poisoned the old man. About 40 of his relatives are in the case against the second wife, who has won several points as the case developed.

TO TENDER RECEPTION TO PLEASANT STOVALL

Savannah, Ga., July 9.—(Special.)—Tomorrow at the rooms of the B. P. and T. club Pleasant A. Stovall, who is to leave in a short time for Berne, Switzerland, where he is to serve as minister to Switzerland, will be the guest of the business organizations of Savannah.

He is to be tendered a public reception and during the course of it he is to be presented with a handsome silver punch bowl with a large number of silver cups as a token of the respect and admiration the people of the city have for him.

Next week Mr. Stovall will probably visit Athens and Atlanta for the purpose of telling his friends in these cities goodby. He has received a great many congratulatory letters and messages since his appointment was confirmed by the senate.

WOMAN IS SCALPED WHEN ROTTEN TREE FALLS ACROSS HEAD

Athens, Ga., July 9.—(Special.)—Mrs. Gus Schlock, of the adjacent county of Elbert, was half scalped by a falling tree yesterday near her home. Mrs. Schlock and her young son were picking blackberries when a dead tree fell, striking the woman's head. The skin of the scalp with the hair was literally peeled off half her head, leaving the skull all but bare. The scalping began at the woman's nose just above the eye, extended horizontally to the ear and straight up the middle of the head over the crown to the back of the head. The half scalp was left swinging over the ear, a mass of skin and hair.

Mrs. Schlock was apparently dead for some time. The tiny child with her screamed and alarmed a passerby. The woman will recover. She is the mother of eight children, though only 35 years old.

FUTURE CONTRACT TAX OPPOSED BY CHAMBER

Cotton Merchants and Exporters Are Compelled to Hedge Against Purchases.

The directors of the chamber of commerce unanimously approved the report of the cotton committee submitted at the monthly meeting Wednesday, which opposes the passage of the Clark Rider to the Tariff bill, now before the United States senate, proposing to tax cotton contracts where delivery is not made, 1-10 of one cent per pound, which would amount to fifty cents per bale.

The committee is sending out letters to the two Georgia senators and Congressman William Schley Howard urging that they use their influence to down its passage.

The contention of the committee is that as cotton merchants and exporters, who deal directly in spot cotton, with the farmer and county merchant, such are compelled to use future contracts as legitimate hedges against their purchases of spot cottons, until sale. The same cannot be said promptly and if such hedges are not available at a reasonable price, they would be compelled to buy only on orders, and speculate, until a buyer for the purchases could be secured. This the committee claims, would place the farmer in the spinners and foreigners hands and tend to depress the price of cotton.

The committee says that the passage of this bill would destroy all cotton exchanges in this country and claims that the trade would be without statistics, rules or standards of grade, except those of the Liverpool exchange, to which business would to some extent be transferred at high cost, thus lessening the value of cotton to the producer.

This bill is class legislation, the committee states, and does not apply to any other commodity, and would reduce the value of the south's greatest asset. They claim that the proposed tax would be prohibitive and that the present cotton gamblers would still gamble in other commodities, and therefore the legitimate trade would be forced into speculation, thus increasing, instead of decreasing, the evil.

The committee suggested that if the bill was for the purpose of revenue, that a tax of $1 per hundred bales be placed, which they say would yield a handsome return to the government.

The committe which made this report is composed of F. M. Inman, chairman; T. A. Nicolson, J. S. Akers, E. S. Elney.

DR. JEWETT WILLIAMS ACCEPTS GREEK CHAIR

Milledgeville, Ga., July 9.—(Special.)—The Rev. Jewett Williams, now rector of St. Stephen's church, Milledgeville, has accepted the chair of Greek in the University of the South Theological school.

Mr. Williams took his course in divinity at Christ church, Oxford, taking a three-year course in two years, and last year returned for a first graduate course and his doctor's degree.

He is a Macon man and was connected with Christ church there some eighteen months ago. He has been in Milledgeville only a few months, but has made many friends here who regret to have him go.

Rev. John M. Walker, of Macon, will succeed Mr. Williams as rector of St. Stephen's church here.

JOHN LYONS IS DEAD.

Aged Merchant of Savannah Succumbs to Injuries.

Savannah, Ga., July 9.—(Special.)—John Lyons, Savannah's oldest merchant on Broughton street, died today at his home. Mr. Lyons sustained a fall on Monday when he suffered a stoke of apoplexy while going up the stair-way of his home. His condition was not thought serious until today. He fractured his hip and injured his spine.

Mr. Lyons is survived by his wife and seventeen children. He had been a familiar figure in Savannah for more than half a century.

Mr. Lyons was born in County Mayo, Ireland, March 16, 1840. He came to this country when quite a young man. He had been engaged in the grocery business at Whitaker and Broughton streets since he was 25 years of age.

SECOND DIST. MASONS MEET IN THOMASVILLE

Thomasville, Ga., July 9.—(Special.)—The second district convention of Masons met here today for a two days' session, with a fine attendance from the lodges all over the second congressional district.

The convention held its opening session this morning at the hall of the Thomasville lodge, the host of the occasion. The meeting opened with an address of welcome from Mayor Roscoe Luke, followed by a response from Hon. R. C. Bell, of Cairo. The lodge was then turned over to the officers of the district lodge. An eloquent address by Grand Master Colding, of the state lodge, was also a feature of the morning program.

After an adjournment for dinner, degree work was taken up, work in the E. A. degree being given by the team from our Boston lodge, and in the F. C. degree by the Albany lodge. In the evening work in the masters' degree was given by the Bainbridge lodge.

COLORED PYTHIANS MEET AT BRUNSWICK

Brunswick, Ga., July 9.—(Special.) Over 3,500 negroes from all sections of the state are in Brunswick attending the annual meeting of the colored Knights of Pythias of the state, who are in session here. The colored Pythians have been pouring into the city all during the week, most of them coming on five special trains which arrived yesterday. In the afternoon the annual parade was held, which is said to have been the longest in the history of the order. The parade was over a mile long. There were five bands, one drum corps and a dozen or more companies of uniform rank. This afternoon the annual prize drill was held.

Motor to the Wigwam, Indian Springs, for the week-end. Fifty-one miles; roads are good, either by Griffin or McDonough. Climate fine.

GRAFONOLA WANTED FOR MARTHA'S HOME

Appeal for Subscriptions Sent Constitution by Ladies Who Have Visited Home.

An appeal for subscriptions to a fund being raised to purchase a grafonola, for the inmates of the Martha's home has been sent to The Constitution by a number of the ladies who have daily visited the home and who believe that a musical instrument would bring pleasure to the unfortunate inmates and would aid the work that is being done for their uplift.

"Those girls there work hard and long hours and they have no pleasures of any kind," said one lady who has been a constant visitor at the place, "and I believe that nothing would give them more pleasure or help them more than refined music.

"Those whose environments have been unfortunate," she continued, "are now under the refined and deeply spiritual influence of their matron, and the faces that once bore signs of a blighted life are assuming an aspect of physical and moral improvement. The home is roomy and immaculate, but barren of much that would contribute to the joy of the daily life of the occupants. We want to add some refining influence to their lives that will aid them to forget the past."

Already a small sum has started the subscription and through arrangements with the Columbia Graphophone company, of 122 Peachtree street, an instrument will be purchased at a greatly reduced price.

Subscriptions will be turned over to the ladies in charge if sent to The Constitution office or to the company which has agreed to sell the machine at a special rate.

CLOTHIERS' LEAGUE NEEDS TWO TEAMS

Two more strong teams are needed in the Clothiers' league, which will play games every Wednesday. The league will hold a meeting at 97 Peachtree street Friday night at 8 o'clock. Any teams wishing to enter the league are requested to be at that meeting.

If the Crackers can win two out of three from the Gulls they will tie them in the standing. Three straights will put us in front. Here's hoping.

Eight in a Row — Gulls Here Today

EDITED BY Dick Jemison

WHIFFS

Root Loud.

THE CRACKERS have been playing great baseball of late. They are going right for the top. Now it's up to You fans. When you go out there today open up. Lend your voices in an attempt to rattle the opposition, and in shouting encouragement to the local boys. They'll show their appreciation. They have done so. Let's all do our right in behind them. Plenty of pulling power from the stands and Bill Smith will win his third pennant for Atlanta. What do you say out there on the bleachers? Come on—a little pep.

Real Battles On.

THE CRUCIAL point of the Southern league pennant race has been reached. During the remaining three days of the present week and the first three days of next week there will be up for decision a matter of seven games that will direct the ultimate outcome of the Southern league pennant ranking.

Leaders Battle.

THE GULLS battle the Crackers at Poncey today, Friday and Saturday, and on the same days the Billikens are battling the Lookouts at Chattanooga. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday the Billikens are at Poncey and the Gulls are at Lookout-ite. On these series of games hinges the pennant race at the present writing at least.

Reverse Order.

THE CRACKERS and Lookouts can reverse the present order of the first division by capturing the majority of the games in their series on their home lot. And if the men of Smith and Elberfeld get out in front it is going to take an awful lot of beating to drag them back again. Southern league fandom seems confined for the most exciting race that has ever been presented to them with four clubs right in the hunt and the Birmingham Barons threatening to break in at a moment's notice.

Not in Danger.

UNLESS Robertson, of Mobile, and Wares, of Montgomery, crowd on a hitting streak, they will never break Jimmy Johnston's base-stealing record for last season, when he swiped 89 bags. Robertson and Wares have thirty-eight stolen bases each to their credit to date. At their present clip they will fall nine bases shy at the finish.

The Big Five.

THE RACE for the pitching honors in the Southern league is at present between five twirlers—Petty and Cottelman, of Atlanta; Covleskie and Sommers, of Chattanooga, and Prough, of Birmingham. Including Tuesday's games, they stood: Cottelman, won 8, lost 1, .833; Covleskie, won 15, lost 3, .810; Petty, won 14, lost 3, .824; Prough, .758; Sommers, won 14, lost 5, .737. These five should battle it right out to the end.

Change of Scene.

HAL CHASE was benefited by the change of scene. With the White Sox the wonderful first baseman fielding the bag as had been his custom in years gone by, and with the willow he has been showing a great improvement. Since joining the Sox he has hit a .388 clip.

Grape Juice Jinx.

W. J. BRYAN, secretary of state, has put the grape juice jinx on the Senators. The first time he sat with the Senators play they dropped the contest 5 to 1. Sixteen to one would be a little more appropriate. On the other hand, President Wilson has seen them win every time he has attended, and he has not missed many games.

Give Him Credit.

HARRY DAVIS is being given the lion's share of the credit for the fine showing of the Athletics this season. Philadelphia fans argue that when Davis was away last season the team slumped. Now that he is back it is going again. He is considered one of the best men at the business on the coaching lines.

It's All Over.

MANY FANS in the big leagues consider the pennants already won. They are already engaging seats for the world's series between the Giants and the Phillies. Not very bad dope, at that.

A Self-Sacrifice.

GEORGE STOVALL should worry. Managing a St. Louis team is in the nature of a self-sacrifice at best. Stovall, in his first year with the Browns, made a better showing than Chance has made with the Yankees, yet they are said to be after Stovall's scalp, while Chance is being lauded. It is evidently not worrying George any. He's playing just as well as he ever did.

Gave Right Credit.

HUGH JENNINGS, manager of the Detroit Tigers, spoke a mouthful when, during his pennant-winning years with the Tigers, he was often quoted, "Give all the credit to the boys, not me." Jennings was heralded as a great manager at that time. Now you hardly hear of him. Those were words of wisdom. But in justice to Jennings, he's not leading the team these days that he did in 1907-8-9.

Best of Deal.

JACK KNIGHT is back with the Yankees again, after being traded to Washington for Gabby Street. Knight was secured from the Cubs in the international league club, and Burton, the first sacker, secured from Chicago by the Yanks, was sent to the Cubs in part payment. As Rollie Zeider has been laid up with injuries since joining the Cubs, it looks as if the White Hose got the best of the famous Chase for Barton and Zeider deal.

Five Crackers.

THE NEWS, of Birmingham, in picking an all-southern league team for the season, gives five Crackers places on the line-up. Price is given a place on the pitching staff, Long and Welchonce in the infield, and Bisland and Smith in the infield.

BASEBALL CLUB MOVES TO ITS NEW OFFICES

The Atlanta Baseball association is now installed in its new offices in the Third National Bank buildin, moving from the Empire Life building Tuesday afternoon.

Newborn 6, Jackson 3.

Jackson, Ga., July 9.—Special.—Newborn defeated Jackson here today by the score of 6 to 3. Batteries: For Newborn, Sims and Smith; for Jackson, Fiorino and Scanlon. Hits, five born 10, Jackson 6. Umpires, Kelly and Chiles.

Bisland Cleans the Bases With Triple; Crackers Win All Three From Bernhards

By Dick Jemison

Rube Kissinger's estimation of Rivington Bisland, the Crackers' peppery shortstop, rose 100 per cent after the final game between the Crackers and the Turtles Wednesday afternoon.

With two on bases and two outs, Kissinger passed Wallop Smith purposely to get at Bisland. The local sheet-wielder promptly pasted the horsehide to right for three cushions, cleaning the sacks, counting himself on Abstein's bad relay to third.

Needless to say, the Crackers won. The count was 5 to 3. It was the third straight victory over the Turtles, making a clean sweep of the series, and giving the Crackers the margin in games on the season, winning eight and dropping five to the men of Bernhard.

It was also the eighth straight victory of the locals in their reorganized march to the pennant. Two from the Gulls, two from the Pels, three from the Turtles and the last game recently by in Montgomery totals eight.

The Features.

The game was the contest on the local grounds this season, only one hour and thirty-seven minutes being consumed in playing out the contest. Dent twirled a great game. In the inning but the ninth did he allow any two hits to arrive together. In the eighth, a temporary blow-up in his proceedings resulted in two tallies fitting across the platter. The run in the ninth the Turtles earned, and was all that they were entitled to.

Dent had nice speed, a peck of control and a world of sharp breaks that kept the Turtles guessing when a hit was made.

Bisland and Wallop Smith had grand days in the field, many of their chances being hard. Bisland's bobble was on an easy chance, while Smith had a busy day on the first cushion with sixteen putouts.

Why Bill Abstein left the big show was clearly shown Wednesday. His supply of thinking ability is not of any great moment. No less than three stories did he make during the game.

Both Kissinger and Dent twirled nice ball for the first three innings. But the Crackers wrecking crew got busy in the fourth.

The Big Innings.

Long pasted one back of first base that hit something right under the ground and caromed to right field for two sacks. Welchonce laid down such a beautiful sacrifice that he beat it to first base. At their present clip they will battle it right out to the end.

Chance of Scene.

HAL CHASE was benefited by the change of scene. With the White Sox the wonderful first baseman fielding the bag as had been his custom in years gone by, and with the willow he has been showing a great improvement. Since joining the Sox he has hit a .388 clip.

Grape Juice Jinx.

Vols 3, Gulls 2.

Nashville, Tenn., July 9.—Nashville outplayed Mobile this afternoon and won the second straight game, 3 to 2. Witham pitched good ball until the eighth, when he weakened. In the ninth Young's fine throw to the plate cut off Paulet with what would have been the tying run. Hoffman played first base for Nashville and led in batting with a double and two singles out of four times at bat.

Billies 2, Barons 2.

Birmingham, Ala., July 9.—Elmer Brown twirled sensationally, yielding but three scratch hits, all through Graham, but his wildness and Hardgrove's consisting pitching permitted Birmingham to tie in ten innings, 2 to 2. Of the three safeties recorded, but one went to the outfield. Although Hardgrove allowed eight hits, he complained of the situation in moments of danger.

The fielding on both features. The game was contested slowly and when ten innings were played the umpires called play on account of approaching darkness. Mayer was hit on the hand by Brown and retired from the game.

Locals Will Fight Comiskey's Stand Before Commission

The local club is going to make Charley Comiskey, the owner of the Chicago White Sox, deliver the goods "Boy" Smith or appease their wounded feelings with someone just as good, or with something more tangible than they have.

The case will be taken before the national commission, the highest court in baseball, for decision.

Comiskey called Smith to the Crackers for a certain figure. The local club accepted his terms unconditionally. Then Comiskey backed down. According to baseball laws the deal should have been consummated when the local club accepted the Old Roman's terms.

The national commission can not do anything else but side with the local club. If it does not, it will not only establish a precedent, but will violate one of its own rules. Neither seems likely.

AMERICAN TENNIS STARS PLAY GERMANS IN ENGLAND TODAY

Nottingham, England, July 9.—The American and Germantennis representatives played their last practice games today for the second round, which begins tomorrow, at the Dwight F. Davis international lawn tennis cup matches, the draw for which was made this afternoon. Although the weather has not been at all favorable for tennis, Harold H. Hackett, captain of the United States teams, says the American players are in good form. The Germans are complaining of the climate. This afternoon's draw is looked upon as being favorable to the American players.

Froitzheim is Germany's strongest singles player, so it is considered that as well for the American team that he should meet Maurice E., McLoughlin, America's champion, in the first day's play. The showing made by Kreuzner, of Germany, inthe all England championship, partially justifies the belief that he can beat R. Norris Williams, of Philadelphia.

Although the Americans are the favorites for the doubles match, they will go to the best form to beat Germany's representatives, Rahe and Kleinscroth.

McIntyre Canned.

New Orleans, La., July 9.—(Special.) Harry McIntyre, former big league twirler, has been handed his unconditional release by Manager Charley Frank.

HIS TRIPLE TURNED TRICK

RIVINGTON BISLAND,

The Crackers' shortstop, whose triple in the fourth inning, with the bases filled, broke up a perfectly good ball game. Bizzy has been in a hitting slump, but Wednesday he got two of them "where they ain't," and has hopes of getting them regular, now that the jinx has been shooed.

PAT GRAHAM SIGNED BY "KID" ELBERFELD

Chattanooga, Tenn., July 9—(Special.) Catcher Pat Graham, formerly of Atlanta, was signed by Manager Elberfeld today. He replaces Fitzgerald, who will be returned to Detroit.

ORPHANS ANSWERED

Under this head the sporting editor will endeavor to answer all questions pertaining to all branches of sports.

Dick Jemison, Sporting Editor The Constitution—When a runner on second has the batter knocks a home run, but the man who was on second base failed to touch third base and is called out when the ball is returned to third. Does the run count that the batter made? R. A. B.

Yes, unless there were two outs already.

Some Pitching This.

Saginaw, Mich., July 9—Pitcher "Left-ey" Schwenk, of the local South Michigan league team, has just hung up a record which is believed to be unequaled in recent years of organized baseball. In four days he pitched four complete games and finished another —36 innings—in which he struck out 33 men in the 36 innings and allowed 21 hits which netted his opponents seven runs.

LONGER MOTORCYCLE RACES FRIDAY NIGHT

"If they don't get a spill Friday night it will be a miracle."

That's the verdict of the old-time riders at the Atlanta Motordrome. The harvest of the local season has been the fact that no accidents have happened.

Usually the beginners at board track racing make trouble. And the local track meet has been enlivened by the work of two riders—Olsen and Lewis—who never took part in boarding track racing until the local meet opened. They have pulled all sorts of fancy stuff.

Friday night, however, the ambulance corps should be on the job and limbered up for fast work. For they are going to put on their first 7-mile race.

Now 7 miles isn't so far, if you are going 20 miles an hour. But it is a tremendous distance at four times that speed—full power. The strain of tires, on bodies, on eyes, on machines and on track is increased with awful strides. Centrifugal force grabs the riders and bends their backs against the machine. Their senses are numbed by the jar, the whistling of the tar, the flashing of the lights, the shouting of the speed bugs and the terrific speed. A man who can go 3 miles at top speed may reel and stagger at the end of 7 miles. After a long race the riders come in with limbs trembling, eyes glazed and blood-shot jaws clenched and bodies cramped.

SON OF CONNIE MACK MAKES WORLD RECORD

Raleigh, N. C., July 9.—Earl Mack, son of Connie Mack, manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, believed to have made a new world's record for chances accepted in a ball game here this afternoon between the Raleigh and Durham clubs of the Carolina league. Mack accepted thirty-one chances, twenty-nine put-outs and two assists, without the least sign of an error. The game went for eighteen innings and was won by Raleigh, 4 to 3. Young Mack is manager and first baseman of the Raleigh club.

Madison 4, Greensboro 2.

Madison, Ga., July 9.—(Special.)—Madison and Greensboro played a hart-fought battle here today, Madison winning, 4 to 2. A record crowd was present and at times the excitement was intense. Greensboro was well represented and the rooting by the rival camps was the greatest ever heard in Madison. Today's victory gives Madison eighteen of the last nineteen games.

Finn's Gulls Here For Three; Gil Price Faces Them Today; Crackers Can Boost Standing

The Mobile Gulls, led by Sir Mique Finn, will be the opponents of the Crackers this afternoon, Friday and Saturday. These three battles have an important bearing on the ultimate ranking of all the teams for the season.

By winning two ou tof three in this series the Crackers will tie Mobile in the percentage column, each with a percentage of .581. A loss like that handed the Turtles would be delightful.

The Gulls come here in a crippled condition, with Baby Doll Jacobsen out for the season, and Captain Charley Starr out indefinitely with a broken talon occasioned by tackling a fierce liner about two weeks ago.

McGill, who was with the Gulls the first part of the season, is playing right field. Dave Rosertson, the league's leading hitter, shifting to center in Jacobsen's place. Sentell is doing acceptably at Starr's place at the keystone.

Fuzz Cavet and Gil Price, two worthy southpaws, will probably tie up in a brilliant pitching duel in today's encounter. Chapman and Schmidt will handle their slants.

The ladies' day of the series will be Friday.

The Saturday game will be called at the regular scheduled time. No early game this trip, for which we are thankful. The fans are sure to be out in force.

COTTON FUTURES BILL DELAYED BY COMMITTEE

Washington, July 9.—The sub-committee of the senate agricultural committee today postponed final action until tomorrow on the bill of Senator Smith, of South Carolina, dealing with cotton futures. The bill then probably will receive the unanimous approval of the sub-committee. The postponement today was due to the inability of some members of the sub-committee to attend the meeting on account of other committee meetings.

SKIN TROUBLE BEGAN WITH ITCHING

affected her whole body. The bumps festered and came so a head and the corruption of allied New England railways was condemned in unmeasured terms by the interstate commerce commission in the report of its investigation made public here today. The commission's conclusions are:

That the "outside" financial management has been "wasteful in the extreme" and that had the New Haven confined itself to actual railroad activities under the same conditions that prevailed in other respects "it could have paid a dividend of 8 per cent for the fiscal year 1912 and carried to surplus account $1,794,000 instead of showing a deficit of $930,000."

That the New Haven's agreement with the Boston and Albany is "violative of the spirit of the statute against the restraint of competition and should be canceled." "In our opinion," says the commission, "this line should be kept entirely free from New Haven control."

That the New Haven should divest itself of its trolley lines, not because the present ownership is in violation of law, but because such ownership might be used to prevent the building of competing lines in the future.

Almost Exclusive Monopoly.

That the Boston and Maine's merger with the New Haven, if permitted to stand, will result in "an almost exclusive monopoly of transportation facilities by railroad in the greater part of New England."

That passenger train service, without considering safety of operation, on the New Haven is distinctly better than in either line entering New York, and that of the Boston and Maine equally as good. Both roads, however, are criticised adversely for lack of steel cars.

That the freight service of the Boston and Maine "is much less reliable than that of either the Pennsylvania or the Baltimore and Ohio, while that of the New Haven is slightly inferior to the Pennsylvania, but about on a par with the Baltimore and Ohio."

That passenger fares in New England have been more favorable to the local traveling public than in any other portion of the United States.

That "any betterment of railroad conditions in New England must begin with the assurance that the New Haven management will act not only prudently, but, above all, within the letter and the spirit of the law."

Some Recommendations.

No order was made by the commission, but in its opinion the following propositions which have national application to all railroads lie at the foundation of adequate railroad regulation:

"Every interstate railroad should be prohibited from expending money or incurring liabilities or acquiring property not in the operation of its railroad or in the legitimate improvement, extension or development of that railroad.

"No interstate railroad should be permitted to lease or purchase any other railroad, nor to acquire the stocks or securities of any other railroads, nor to guarantee the same, directly or indirectly, without the approval of the federal government.

"No stocks or bonds should be issued by an interstate railroad except for the purposes sanctioned in the two preceding paragraphs, and none should be issued without the approval of the federal government.

The inquiry resulting in today's report was begun about a year ago by the commission upon its own initiative, in consequence of numerous and persistent complaints of the railroad rates, regulations and service in New England. The carriers particularly investigated were the New York, New Haven and Hartford, the Boston and Maine and the Maine Central. Months were devoted to examination of books and accounts and thirty-seven days were devoted to public hearings, in the course of which more than 6,000 pages of testimony were taken.

Enormous Sums Spent.

In an exhaustive discussion of the financial affairs of the New Haven and the Boston and Maine, Commissioner Prouty indicates clearly that the investigation was "not into the solvency or insolvency of the New Haven company," but rather into teh character of its financial operations.

It is shown by the report that in 1903 the total capitalization of the New Haven was $93,000,000, and its operated mileage, 2,040 miles. In 1912 the capitalization was $417,000,000, an increase of $324,000,000; while its operated mileage was increased only 50 miles. In this period of nine years the New Haven company expended actual ownership of about 800 miles of road which it previously had operated, expending approximately $40,000,000 in obtaining the additional mileage. It expended during the nine years $96,000,000 for betterments and equipment, making a total of $136,000,000 devoted to its railroad property.

"This would leave," the report points out, "the sum of $204,000,000 which in nine years had been expended in operations outside its railroad sphere." To the methods of investing that sum the report devotes elaborate attention. Various transactions are taken up, one by one, and analyzed.

Turned Water Into Wine.

In its acquisition of the Rhode Island trolley lines, the methods pursued, Commissioner Prouty suggests, "afford an instructive object lesson in the realm of what is sometimes termed 'high finance.'" After passing through the hands of two or three corporations, the trolley lines were acquired by the New Haven at "inflated" prices.

"Representatives of the New Haven company," the report says, "insisted that this company had not watered the stock of the Rhode Island company, and this, strictly speaking, is true. The Improvement company turned in the water and the New Haven company converted that water into wine. In whatever aspect the transaction is viewed, the New Haven gave $18,500,000 for nothing." It was shown that the trolleys cost the New Haven to date about $24,000,000 and have been valued at something more than one-quarter of that amount.

Mellen Quits Another Place.

Portland, Me., July 9.—Charles S. Mellen, resigned the presidency of the Maine Central railroad today. Vice President and General Manager McDonald was elected to succeed him. The Maine Central is a subsidiary of the Boston and Maine, the presidency of which Mr. Mellen resigned yesterday.

you are asked to spend money which you have not got and to show that representative government is a success, not only in its intention, but also in its efficiency and patriotism," he said.

The Dinner a Big Success.

The Wheatley dinner proved a success in every respect and displayed more clearly than has been shown before this year the entire absence of factionalism from this legislature and the patriotic intention of the leaders of this general assembly to get together with the governor in working for the welfare of Georgia.

President Randolph Anderson, of the senate, was not able to be present on account of illness in his family, but Speaker Burwell was there and Chairman Akin, of the ways and means committee. Both made speeches in which they urged the importance of a solution of the financial difficulties of the state by this legislature. Speaker Burwell declared that he had used extraordinary care in selecting the appropriations and ways and means committees because he recognized the fact that great responsibility would largely devolve upon them.

In his introductory remarks as toastmaster Mr. Wheatley said that his committee would be called upon this year to make expenditures of money which they did not have.

Akin Promises Tax Reform.

Chairman Akin, of ways and means, on his part promised that his committee would raise more money for the appropriations committee, to spend than they had had and would do it in a way that the people would recognize as just and fair. The committee was working on a tax equaltsation bill and they would report a good one.

Other speakers who were called upon by the toastmaster were Judge Griffin, of Lowndes; J. Y. Smith, of Fulton; Sam Olive, of Richmond, and Fred Lewis, who responded on behalf of the press.

FOUR GEORGIA BANKS SUE KENTUCKY CONCERN

Louisville, Ky., July 9.—A petition on behalf of four Georgia banks, asking for a receivership for the Kentucky Refining company, a $600,000 corporation located here, was filed in the United States district court here. The complainants are:

The Central Bank and Trust company, of Atlanta; the Third National bank, of Atlanta; the Bank of Rockdale and the First National bank, of Madison.

The petition asserts that the Kentucky Refining company is insolvent, and alleges mismanagement, the withholding of dividends and speculation with the company's earnings.

The complainants sue as stockholders and set forth that they hold, in the aggregate, 336 shares of first preferred stock.

Anderson Improves.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 9.—The condition of Bud Anderson, the Medford, Ore., lightweight pugilist who was operated on last night for appendicitis, showed satisfactory improvement today. His speedy recovery was predicted.

ULTIMATUM IS SERVED ON GOVERNOR BLEASE

Washington, July 9.—What virtually is an ultimatum in the militia controversy was served on Governor Blease, of South Carolina, and the militia authorities of that state tonight by officials of the war department. The action was taken because of the governor's refusal to instruct the militia to conform with the requirements that entitle state troops to federal aid. As a result, the $70,000 of federal funds available for the South Carolina troops virtually has been withdrawn and the co-operation between the regular military establishment and the citizen soldiery has been severed.

Secretary Garrison, it was declared tonight, had informed Governor Blease that unless the federal requirements are observed, co-operation would cease. Brigadier General Albert L. Mills, chief of the militia division of the war department, almost simultaneously warned Adjutant General Moore, of South Carolina, that the expenditure of any funds on account of the federal government at the coming state encampment would be made at the latter's risk.

The action of the war department followed an interchange of sharp letters in which Governor Blease declared he would be glad to be rid of federal aid or espionage. There are thirty companies in the state militia, twelve of which are said to have ignored the regulations.

NEW NATIONAL HOME TO BE BUILT BY ELKS

Rochester, N. Y., July 9.—The grand lodge of Elks, in forty-ninth reunion here today accepted the $250,000 bid of a Salt Lake City contractor and will build a new national home.

Whether the home shall be on the site of the present home in Bedford, Va., or elsewhere rests with the national home commission, of which Garry Herrmann, of Cincinnati, is chairman. For three consecutive years the commission had favored erecting the home on the old site, the only expressed objection to which is that the inmates are isolated. The Bedford home has been in existence ten years. Bedford, Ind., today offered a $250,000 site.

A per capita tax of 25 cents will be levied on the members of subordinate lodges, giving approximately $105,000 to apply on the new home.

At the night session a report was made on the proposed tuberculosis home for Elks, Grand Secretary Robinson declined to make public the report and the action taken. A new codification of laws relating to the filing of charges against members of subordinate lodges was adopted.

Charles A. White, of Chicago, was re-elected grand treasurer this morning.

They Sold Protection.

San Francisco, July 9.—Charles H. Taylor and Arthur F. MacPhee, police officers found guilty of having sold protection to a ring of bunco men, were given today the maximum penalty of one year in the county jail. Eight policemen have been sentenced, of whom six pleaded guilty.

STATE INSTITUTIONS CARED FOR IN BILL

Maintenance Funds Will Be Provided in General Appropriations Measure.

Maintenance funds for the various state institutions will be included in the general appropriations bill this year as usual, although the probability is that some of them will be greatly cut on account of the depleted condition of the state treasury and in order that the revenue may not be exceeded.

The appropriations committee will not put so drastic a construction upon the resolution passed Tuesday as was at first understood, and as was indicated in The Constitution yesterday.

At the time the resolution was passed —just before adjournment of the committee—the question was asked of Chairman Wheatley by a member of the house committee whether the deaf and dumb institute would be provided for in the appropriations bill. There was no question of increase, but of maintenance simply.

The reply was that the deaf and dumb institute, being an institution not provided for in the constitution, would have to secure its funds through a special appropriation bill.

Knowing that the cutting off of the state institutions from the general appropriations bill for their maintenance funds was unprecedented, the representative of The Constitution, who wrote the story, called up Chairman Wheatley over the phone.

The question was several times asked him whether the institutions would be compelled to get their maintenance funds this year by special appropriation. To make the matter even plainer still, it was asked whether all of their demands this year would have to be made in that way. The answer in each case made by the chairman was that such was his understanding of the resolution.

All special appropriations and increases asked for this year, whether by state institutions or by departments of the government, must be made, under the resolution adopted by the committee, by special appropriations. This is identically the same course which was pursued some years ago by the appropriations committee when Murphey Candler, the present head of the railroad commission, was chairman.

Think of the Youngsters These Hot Days

See that their wants are carefully looked after.

The very little ones cannot express their needs in speech, and they must be constantly cared for.

Articles for the bath, toilet preparations, suitable food and seasonable clothing must be purchased, and the mother who makes it a practice to read the advertisements in THE CONSTITUTION will soon learn where she can buy to best advantage for the children when July days are hottest.

The advertisements in THE CONSTITUTION will tell you where to buy dainty dresses for the infants, cool and washable frocks for the girls of 2, 3 and 4 years, and pretty dresses for the bigger girls.

Also cool clothing for the boys —from rompers up to the nattily embroidered sailor suits.

July days permit you to dress your children comfortably, becomingly and inexpensively.

This is another Goodrich Year

Goodrich Unit Molded Tires have never had a "bad" season.

Year in and year out, since the automobile came into use and we made the first American clincher tire, they have more than satisfied every user with their long, uniform wear and their remarkably resilient qualities which increase the comfort and luxury of motoring.

There is nothing in Goodrich Advertising that isn't in Goodrich Goods

Goodrich Tires are an added value and advantage to your car.

With Goodrich branches, service stations and dealers located everywhere the user of Goodrich Tires knows he will always be taken care of.

It is the unit molding of Goodrich Tires that adds wear to the purest rubber, compounded as our 48 years of experience proves is the best way to give it durability and toughness and to hold its resiliency and life. Each Goodrich Tire is made and molded as a unit. The thick, tough tread being actually of the tire and not simply on it, naturally does not peel or slip. The whole tire, being an integral structure, naturally wears long and uniformly because the life of the rubber has not been cooked out by extra vulcanization. Your tire dealer will supply you with whatever style of Goodrich Tire is best for your needs, and we will send you, for the asking, our free folders which tell you how to get the best service from your tires.

THE ADVENTURES OF DOTTO, THE WANT AD SCOUT---Cleaning Out the Attic

ATLANTA'S STRIDES FROM DAY TO DAY

With one auction sale largely attended, and a number of transfers yesterday, the Atlanta real estate world became more optimistic than for several days past.

The old adage of "the proof of the pudding is in the eating" was never better illustrated than in this auction, in which John A. Owens and Gid Hanna sold through W. A. Vernor five lots and one house and lot at Park avenue and Bryan streets.

Ten months ago Messrs. Owens and Hanna purchased the property through Mr. Vernor from Mrs. Lizzie Hollingsworth for approximately $4,000. Yesterday the same property at auction brought a total of $7,295, which is almost a fifty per cent increase.

The purchasers were as follows: Lot 1, $775, by H. A. White. Lot 2, $775, by H. A. White. Lot 3, $875, by J. T. Wallace. Lot 4, $1,300, by John A. Fritz. Lot 5, $830, by Frank Whitley. House and lot, $2,650, by Geo. B. Beauchamp.

Immediately after Mr. Whitley had purchased lot 5 for $830, he was of-

POT OF GOLD FOUND BY NORCROSS TENANT

Thomas Smith Leaves for Parts Unknown After Plowing Up Treasure in Field.

Norcross, Ga., July 9.—(Special.)—Excitement was occasioned when Thomas Smith, a tenant on the farm of Jeff Staples, 2 miles from Norcross, plowed up a pot of gold and silver coin. The exact amount is not known, as Mr. Smith took his riches and left for parts unknown.

Mr. Staples, the owner of the farm, on going to the spot where the treasure was unearthed, found forty or fifty dollars in gold and silver coin bearing the dates 1847, 1849, 1852.

Many rumors are rife as to who buried this money. One is that prior to the civil war, the property was owned by a wealthy maiden lady, who did not trust banks, and planted her money for safety, and died without revealing its hiding place. There are others who believe that Bob Goga buried this money during the civil war, and was never able afterwards to locate the spot.

fered $150 additional for it, and refused.

Mr. Vernoy is so pleased with the result that he is planning other deals for the future, and before the summer is over Atlanta will see more auctions of such a profitable nature.

Outlook for Summer.

Realty dealers are inclined to agree Wednesday's transactions as a forerunner of better things. Before the summer is over a large number of small transactions are looked forward to. Now seems to be the logical time for the homeseeker to purchase, and the small investor to deal. While good prices are prevailing, yet the market is by no means prohibitive, and it is safe to say that Atlanta will continue this period of consistent, sane investment along real estate lines.

More Subdivisions to Open.

Within the next few weeks more announcements of the opening of new subdivisions are expected. There are several choice tracts of land about the city which are being prepared for opening, and one firm in particular has an especially attractive subdivision which will soon be thrown open.

Meeting of Rental Agents.

The meeting of rental agents which was to have been held in the offices of Charles P. Glover Wednesday has been postponed until Friday afternoon, at 3:30 o'clock.

One of the many important matters which will be discussed is the ejection of the violation of the exclusive listing rule of the exchange, which requires that one agent have charge of a piece of property for thirty days before other agents are allowed to list the place.

This rule has been violated a number of times lately, and in all probability some drastic action will be taken on the matter Friday afternoon.

Large Courtland Street Sale.

G. M. McKinnon has sold for W. I. Webb to Dr. George F. Payne a parcel on Courtland street, between Cain and Harris streets, for an aggregate consideration of $20,000.

The property is on the east side of Courtland street, in what is known as semi-central territory, and consists of two double frame houses, containing 18 rooms. The lot is 77x275.

Dr. Payne intends to remodel the houses and use them for his pharmacy college.

Sales on Ponce de Leon.

The Claude E. Sims company announces the sale of three handsome residences on Ponce de Leon.

This company sold to J. H. Levesedge, of Montgomery, for Dr. John H. Daniel, No. 466 Ponce de Leon avenue for a consideration of $13,000.

This property is just east of Barnett on the north side of the street. The lot is 50x150, and contains an eight-room, two-story house.

The same agency has sold for R. P. Taylor to Dr. William Asher No. 572 Ponce de Leon for a consideration of $10,000. The lot is 75x252, and contains an eight-room dwelling.

FURTHER ADVANCE IN COTTON MARKET

Continued Hot Weather in the South and Talk of Insect Damage Sent Cotton Prices Up.

New York, July 9.—There was a further advance in the cotton market today on renewed covering and a scattering demand from local bulls of trade sources. Continued hot, dry weather in the south, increasing talk of insect damage to the new crop and further shipments from the local stock were the features.

Cables were better than due and the market opened steady at an advance of 4 to 8 points on a renewal of yesterday's buying movement. After showing a net gain of about 6 to 10 points prices reacted, under realizing, and the market also seemed to be meeting some scattering pressure from houses with southern connections. The forenoon trade in fairly selling naturally suggested that the crop was making favorable progress, but the day's weather reports again showed very high temperatures in the southwest with thirteen stations in the Houston district reporting 100 degrees or over and prices firmed up again in the early afternoon.

Buying was more active in the last hour than at any time during the day and closing prices were within a point or two of the best at a net advance of 11 to 15 points. Wall street interests were credited with buying on the advance and houses with Liverpool connections were buyers of early new crop months during the morning. Reports reaching here from Texas claim that boll weevil are threatening more damage to the cotton crop this week than at any time for the past four years and, while some authorities claim that the prevailing weather conditions are favorable in the main, the strengthening condition of the old crop is supposed to emphasize any suggestion of new crop damage.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, July 9.—Cotton futures opened steady at an advance of 1 to 7 points on active months. The weather map showed cloudy, but mostly dry weather over the belt, and indications for the forecast 411 not indicate much change in conditions. This was called unfavorable by those who were bullishly inclined as the temperature is to need rain again and further it is being stated that the local crop could be benefited with dry weather during July and August as little damage from rust is expected. Private reports were 3 to 8 points over yesterday's close, July showing the least rise on account of a few scattered sales that were reported. Toward the middle of the morning the market lost the early part of yesterday's close and moderate selling for short account which appeared to be based on the European political situation. Selling was not determined enough to cause a net decline and late in the morning the ring started buying which was followed by buyers on the high temperatures in Texas and the continued dry weather, the trading months rallying 4 to 5 points over the final figures of yesterday.

The market closed steady.

Cotton futures closed steady at a net advance of 4 to 7 points.

Treasury Statement.

Washington, July 9.—The condition of the United States treasury at the beginning of business today was:

Free balance in treasury and banks $111,823,149.
Balance in Philippine treasury and unavailable $26,121,905.
Net balance in general fund: $137,645,009.
Receipts yesterday $2,185,926.
Disbursements yesterday $3,030,704.
The deficit this fiscal year is $5,882,208, as against a deficit of $4,282,598 last year.
The figures for receipts, disbursements and silver exclude Panama and public debt transactions.

Molasses quiet.

STOCKS IMPROVED LATE IN THE DAY

Some of the Issues Showed Full Recoveries, But Most of the Stocks Closed With Losses.

New York, July 9.—The placid indifference shown in the tock market recently to accumulating bearish influence was less noticeable today, and movements of stocks were more nearly in accordance with the trend of speculative sentiment. Quotations turned definitely downward during the morning trading. The volume of business increased on the down grade and more shares changed hands in the first two hours than during the entire session yesterday. The market hardened during the afternoon and some stocks accord full recoveries, but most of the active shares showed slight net losses.

Canadian Pacific was the particular point of weakness, as it fell 1-2 points to 213 on unusually heavy trading. It touched a new low figure for the year which brought it nearly fifty points below the price at which it sold in January. Foreign selling was largely responsible for the break, although rumors of a forthcoming $80,000,000 bond issue played a part in influencing trading. Fully 10,000 shares were disposed of for London account and there was selling here by Canadian interests. Official denial of rumors of a new stock issue checked the decline, although only a small part of the loss was recovered. Rear traders used the weakness of Canadian Pacific as an entering order and succeeded in making headway in all quarters. They were aided by liquidation of long stock, much of which was said to be of Pittsburgh origin.

Although the monthly report of the Copper Produce, with its showing of a decrease in stocks on hand of 14,659,000 pounds, was a more favorable one than had been generally expected it found little reflection in the stock market.

The government crop was received with a similar degree of apathy. Although a marked falling off in condition and contraction in indicated yield for the wheat crop was shown, stocks of the grain-carrying railroads moved slightly higher during the brief interval between publication of the report and the close of the market.

Government bonds continued to decline. The two's sold at 98 1-2 and the bid price later was reduced to 98, a decline of a point. At private sales 100,000 of these bonds went at 98, and another $100,000 was offered at 97 1-2, with no takers the best offer for the block being 97. United States three's declined 1-2 and the four's 1-4 on call. The market continued to display lack of play lack of support with the Harriman issues prominent in the trading. Total sales, par value, $1,275,000.

Money and Exchange.

New York, July 9.—Money on call steady at 2 to 2½ per cent; last loan, 2½; closing bid, 2%; offered at 2½.

Time loans strong; sixty days, 3@3¼ per cent; 90 days, 4@4¼; six months, 4¼@4½.

Prime mercantile paper, 5 per cent.

Sterling exchange firm, with actual business in bankers' bills at 84.3828 for 60-day bills and $4.8690 for demand.

Commercial bills, $4.8276.

Bar silver, 58.

Mexican dollars, 48.

Government bonds weak; railroad bonds heavy.

London Stock Market.

London, July 9.—Money and discount rates were dearer today. Traders on the stock exchange were principally occupied with the week's end carry-over during the forenoon, but the market suffered from liquidation in the afternoon. Continental and American exchanges made the closing flat and considerably lower. The only apparent reason for the selling seemed to be fears of Balkan complications. Rubber shares, Rio Tintos and Brazilian and Mexican issues showed the heaviest losses.

American securities, after a quiet opening, were depressed during the afternoon, when Canadian Pacific fell 4 points and Union Pacific 2 points under New York and continental selling. The rear of the list eased off in sympathy and the market closed weak.

Bar silver firm, 27d per ounce. Money, 2@2½ per cent. Discount rates: Short bills, 3⅝@4 per cent; three months, 4 5-16.

Foreign Finances.

Berlin, July 9.—The weekly statement of the Imperial Bank of Germany shows the following changes:

Cash on hand increased 24,725,000 marks.
Loans decreased 49,278,000.
Notes issued, 168,158,000.
Treasury bills increased 6,250,000.
Gold in circulation decreased 184,744,000.
Deposits decreased 57,352,000.
Gold in hand increased 18,566,000.

Paris, July 9.—Three per cent rentes, 83 francs 35 centimes for the account. Exchange on London, 25 francs 34¼ centimes for checks. Private rate of discount, 2¾ per cent.

Berlin, July 9.—Exchange on London, 20 marks 46 pfennigs for checks on money, 3¼@3½ per cent. Private rate of discount, 4¾ per cent.

Paris, July 9.—The weekly statement of the Bank of France when issued tomorrow will show changes amounting to 1,675,000 francs in gold holdings and 7,902,000 francs in silver holdings.

London, July 9.—Bullion amounting to £207,000 was taken into the Bank of England on balance today.

GRAIN MARKETS LITTLE CHANGED

But the Speculators Were Surprised at Crop Report Showing Such Small Yield of Wheat.

Chicago, July 9.—Although some wheat speculators today anticipated a bullish surprise in the government's crop report, comparatively few were prepared for the small yield that finally was shown. On the other hand, the estimate for corn was larger than looked for. Oats turned out as expected. Pending the report, which arrived too late to affect prices, all grain markets dragged, with wheat closing the same as last night to 1-4c off, corn down 1-4 to 3-4 and oats at a decline of 1-2@5-8 to 5-8@3-4c. In provisions the outcome ranged from 5c loss to a like advance. Relatively the tone at the close of wheat was spoken of as firm. Seaboard clearances of wheat and flour equaled 387,000 bushels. Primary receipts of wheat were 873,000 bushels, a year ago 267,000.

Despite the fact that rains last night were not as widespread as had been hoped for, there was considerable unloading by holders of corn. Cash demand was lessened in advance of the government report.

Oats weakened under pressure of heavy offerings from owners.

Steadiness at the yards helped sustain provisions. The market, was the swallest in months.

SECOND LARGEST OF WHEAT CROPS

Acreage, Condition and Indicated Yield of the Principal Crops Given by the Government.

Washington, July 9.—The first idea of the size this year of the country's greatest crop—corn—was given today when the department of agriculture issued its report showing the acreage, condition and estimate of the number of bushels of corn which condition reports indicate will be produced. More definite figures as to the size of the great wheat crop, expected to be the second largest ever gathered, also were given, as well as the first idea of the size of the potato, tobacco and rice crops. Details of the acreage, condition on July 1, and indicated acre yield and total production, interpreted from condition reports, of the principal crops follow:

Winter Wheat—Area planted, 30,938,000 acres, compared with 26,271,000 acres last year. Condition, 81.8 per cent of a normal, compared with 83.3 per cent on June 1, 73.3 per cent on July 1 last year and 70.9 per cent, the ten-year average, on July 1. Indicated yield 13.6 bushels per acre, compared with 15.1 bushels last year and 15.2 bushels, the average for the past five years. Estimated total production 420,000,000 bushels, compared with 396,919,000 bushels last year, 430,858,000 bushels in 1911, 434,142,000 bushels in 1910 and 418,000,000 bushels in 1909.

Spring Wheat—Area planted, 18,993,000 acres, compared with 20,243,000 acres last year. Condition 73.8 per cent of a normal compared with 93.5 per cent on June 1, 89.4 per cent on July 1 last year, and 83.3 per cent, the ten-year average, on July 1. Indicated yield, 11.7 bushels per acre, compared with 17.2 bushels last year and 13.3 bushels, the average for the past five years. Estimated total production 218,000,000 bushels, compared with 330,144,000 bushels last year, 190,682,000 bushels in 1911, 294,979,000 bushels in 1910 and 268,000,000 bushels in 1909.

All Wheat—Area planted, 49,931,000 acres, compared with 47,514,000 acres last year. Condition, 78.6 per cent of a normal, compared with 87.2 per cent on June 1, 78.3 per cent on July 1 last year, and 81.9 per cent, the ten-year average, on July 1. Indicated yield, 14.1 bushels per acre, compared with 16.7 bushels last year and 14.3 bushels, the average for the past five years. Estimated total production 701,000,000, 621,338,000 bushels in 1911, 633,121,000 bushels in 1910, and 687,000,000 bushels in 1909.

GIRL WAS 15, MAN 30, AND HE TIRED OF HER

Divorce Jury Loses No Time in Freeing Mrs. Carrie E. Epperson.

"I don't know, judge; he just got tired of me, I guess. You see I was barely 15 when we married and he was twice my age."

This was the reply made to Judge George L. Bell yesterday in superior court when he asked a divorcee why her husband had deserted her, as she claimed in her petition for separation.

The woman, or rather girl, for from her looks she appeared to be just approaching that age when most girls begin to have beaux in earnest, was Mrs. Carrie E. Epperson, who was married January 12, 1908, to W. J. Epperson.

Thought Her a Witness.

Another little girl barely in her teens had been dragged into court to help untangle a marital twist and Mrs. Epperson, who is now but 20, appeared from her looks to have been there for the same purpose.

There was no further time taken up on the Epperson case. The husband made no defense; it is said that he has left the state, and Judge Bell directed the foreman of the jury to sign a verdict for the child-wife without further ado.

There were over a score of other decrees given. Habitual intoxication, non-support and desertion figured as the principal allegations.

One woman told the court that her husband embarrassed her by cursing her before her boarders and that she could not get used to anything like that.

"How often did he curse you?" asked the judge.

When she replied that he had cursed her at least a thousand times it took the efforts of two bailiffs to keep the laughter from disturbing up the dignity of the courtroom.

Too Many Love Notes.

Mrs. Mary W. Bryan, who got a second verdict from Robert C. Bryan, told the court that she had found in her husband's possession over 150 love notes from another woman. When he took the notes away from her and burned them, she said, it made her so ill that she had to have a doctor.

Mrs. Mamie Anglin's divorce suit against John T. Anglin, who is now suing W. R. Jester, a wealthy contractor, for alienating Mrs. Anglin's affections, was not heard, as attorneys for Anglin filed an answer denying her sensational charges of abuse and mistreatment. In the answer Anglin repeats the charge that Jester and Mrs. Anglin led him a chase from coast to coast and that after had taken her love away from her lawful husband.

SURGEONS USE KNIFE ON CHAIRMAN M'COMBS

Paris, July 9.—The condition today of William M. McCombs, chairman of the democratic national committee, is declared most satisfactory by the surgeon in attendance. His progress toward recovery from the operation for appendicitis he underwent here today was said to be normal, but in view of his delicate constitution, it was stated he would require several days of complete-rest.

New York, July 9.—Mr. McCombs went to Paris lately, knowing that he was suffering from appendicitis, but hopeful that a rest abroad would eliminate the necessity for an operation. Mr. McCombs declined the ambassadorship to France when it was first offered to him on the ground that he could not afford to give up his law practice. President Wilson then expressed regret that the provision made by this country for its ambassadors was inadequate. Since Mr. McCombs refusal President Wilson has nominated no one else for the post, and it is said that the administration hopes to overcome Mr. McCombs' objection and to prevail on him to accept the appointment.

MORTUARY

Mrs. Ora Lillie Williams.

Mrs. Ora Lillie Williams, of Smyrna, Ga., died at a private sanitarium Wednesday night at 11 o'clock. She is survived by her husband, A. F. Williams, and two children. The body was taken to Barclay & Brandon's funeral chapel. Funeral announcement later.

William M. White.

William M. White, aged 61, dropped dead at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday morning at 58 Carroll street, where he was working as a carpenter. He is survived by his wife and two daughters, Mrs. J. H. Shipp and Mrs. W. R. McCarthey. Funeral announcement later.

W. T. Preston.

W. T. Preston, aged 24, died at the residence of his mother, Mrs. J. C. Skelton, 124 West Pine street, at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening. He is survived only by his mother. The funeral will be held from the residence Friday morning at 10 o'clock. Interment will be at Atlanta Park cemetery.

William M. Sift.

William M. Sift, aged 58, died at Dallas, Ga., Sunday afternoon at 6 o'clock. The funeral will be held this morning at 10 o'clock from Poole's chapel. Interment at West View.

Mrs. J. W. Hendrix.

Mrs. J. W. Hendrix, who died at her home at Newborn, Ga., at 6 o'clock on the morning of July 4, was buried Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock from the Methodist church, of which she had been a most consistent member. The interment took place at the Newborn cemetery. She is survived by her father, J. A. Johnston, of Atlanta; her husband, J. W. Hendrix; four children, Lucile, Vernon, Jack, Ralph and Verdie; two brothers and three sisters.

Frank Bailey.

The body of Frank Bailey, the vaudeville actor who shot himself and wife in Kansas City Sunday, will be brought to Atlanta by his sister today at 11 o'clock and carried to the funeral parlors of A. O. and Roy Donehoo. Funeral announcement later.

SHE FAINTS WHEN TOLD SHE'S IN KANSAS CITY

Kansas City, July 9.—When told she was in Kansas City, and not in Boston, a woman giving the name of Mrs. Ronald A. Kent of Portland, Me., swooned at the union station today.

She had requested a ticket to Portland and appeared dumfounded when the agent asked for $52. She protested she had never paid more than $2 fare from Boston to Portland. Then the agent informed her she was in Kansas City and she fainted.

Later she said she was traveling with a Mrs. Iceton and could not explain how she came to be here. She was placed in a hospital for observation, the police believing the heat affected her mind.

Idaho Leads in Gunnery.

Washington, July 9.—The battleship Idaho attained the highest final merit in gunnery of the twenty-one vessels in the battleship class during the past year, and has been awarded the gunnery trophy. In recognition of this the navy department has addressed a congratulatory letter to Captain W. L. Howard commanding officer of the Idaho.

Georgian Is Released.

Tampa, Fla., July 9.—J. E. Green, of Sylvania, Ga., the man who "shot up" County Judge Whitaker's court here a week ago, attempting to kill W. E. Mattox, who was charged with criminally assaulting Green's 11-year-old niece, was released on habeas corpus this morning by Circuit Judge F. M. Robles. Thus far no charge has been lodged against Green. All three of the shots he fired at the prisoner went wild.

DEEP LOBBY PROBING TO BE DONE BY HOUSE

Investigation Ordered of the Charges Made by Mulhall Against Congressmen.

Washington, July 9.—A lobby investigation of extraordinary scope was authorized by the house today to supplement the senate probe already under way. With the adoption of the Henry investigation resolution a special committee of seven members was appointed by Speaker Clark, with Representative Garrett, of Tennessee, as chairman. The committee will meet tomorrow to make plans for the investigation and the probe.

While the house investigation was prompted largely by the allegations of Colonel M. M. Mulhall regarding the legislative activities of the National Association of Manufacturers, the resolution as finally adopted so enlarged the scope of the inquiry that all efforts to control members of the house or to influence legislation by any person or organization will be subject to the inquisitorial power of the committee.

The speaker appointed with Chairman Garrett, Representatives Cline, of Indiana; Russell, of Missouri; Rodenberg, of Georgia, democrats; Willis, of Ohio, and Stafford, of Wisconsin, republicans, and Representatives Nolan, of California, progressive, Representatives Cline, Willis and Stafford are out of town, but probably will return. Chairman Garrett expects to begin hearings on Monday.

Many of the witnesses summoned in the Mulhall charges already are in Washington. Among them are several former members of congress and the officers of the National Association of Manufacturers. The latter have asked Senator Overman to call about forty former and present members of congress, among them former Speaker Cannon, former Senator Aldrich, former Representative Watson, of Indiana, and others mentioned in Mulhall. Those witnesses undoubtedly will be wanted by both the senate and house committees. Printed copies of the Mulhall correspondence have been prepared for the house inquisitors. The resolution adopted by the house provides that all of the hearings of the committee shall be open to the public.

The fight against the resolution was led by Representative Levy, who opposed particularly the reinsertion of a provision allowing the committee to employ counsel. This was done by a vote of 102 to 104.

In the debate Representative McDermott, of Illinois, made a statement denouncing the use of his name in the Mulhall letters.

"On Sunday, June 29," said Mr. McDermott, "an article appeared in the press of the country in which M. M. Mulhall accused me of being in the pay of the National Association of Manufacturers. This is unjust and an outrageous falsehood. I never received a cent from anybody connected to this association. I have always cast my vote on the side of labor and my votes will show this fact. I am willing to let my record speak for itself with my people. I am ready to go before any committee at any time and trust this investigation will be most thorough. Th ersults in my case will show a deep-laid conspiracy against me by Mulhall and others."

JUDGE BARS CRITICISM OF PRESIDENT WILSON

San Francisco, July 9.—Because it contained criticism of the course of President Wilson and Attorney General McReynolds in connection with the resignation of United States District Attorney John L. McNab, the report of the federal jury before which was presented the evidence in the Diggs-Caminetti "white slave" cases, the postponement of which led to McNab's resignation, was rejected today by Judge William C. VanFleet in the United States district court.

"You had no question before you as to the rights or wrongs of the controversy," said the court to the jurors. "It is therefore improper for you to make comments."

The court then ordered that another report be submitted.

WHOLESALE FORGERIES ALLEGED BY GOV. COX

Columbus, O., July 9.—Further sensational developments were expected today as a result of charges of Governor Cox and other state officials of "wholesale forgeries" in connection with petitions for referendum f the workmen's compensation law.

A second arrest was made at Newark today when Ralph Lipscomb, former well known baseball pitcher and member of a wealth family of Newark was taken into custody.

Walter A. Vincent, arrested in Cincinnati last night charged with perjury in connection with the referendum petitions, entered a plea of not guilty today and was held in $1,000 bond.

At the attorney general's office a score of warrants in blank were being prepared.

IN THE THEATERS.

"Along Broadway."

(At the Bijou.)

"I'm Going Back to Carolina," "Malindy's Wedding Day" and "Don't Forget to Say Goodby" are three musical numbers in "Along Broadway" at the Bijou this week and it is difficult to decide which of the three is the most popular. At each performance during the week the audiences never seem to tire of hearing them. The songs are well staged and several novelties are introduced, making the performance one long to be remembered. The Bijou seems to be a most popular mecca for amusement seekers these days.

Talking Pictures.

(At the Grand.)

Edison's talking pictures, together with straight run motion pictures, continued to crowd the Grand daily from 2:30 in the afternoon until bedtime. The Grand management has secured an exceptionally valuable film service, showing exclusive first-run pictures each day in addition to the wonderful Edison talking pictures. Ten cents is the admission fee at any time, with the privilege of any seat.

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

Eva Taylor and her company present "After the Wedding" at the Forsyth this week, and the act is scheduled as one of the big headliners topping the program that will be offered twice daily all during this week. "After the Wedding" is without question the cleverest and most legitimate playlet that vaudeville has shown in Atlanta. The part of the Forsyth's program is of unusual interest. Wilson and Pearl present a rathskeller specialty that has won repeated encores at each performance. The star for this week will be Valeria Bergerie and her company of three people, presenting for the first time here "Judgment," an intensely interesting story.

GOOD ROADS INCREASE VALUE OF PROPERTY

Washington, July 9.—Improvement of country roads has enhanced the value of property bordering on such roads, so that the cost of improvement is equalised, if not exceeded, says the department of agriculture in a bulletin issued today. The department has gathered a mass of data through the office of public roads, which is making a special study of the economic effect of road improvement. According to the information, land values not only have increased, but land values as well show marked advance as a result of roads improvement.
